ENEMY COASTAL AREAS ARE RAIDED

British Land, Sea, Air Units Make Attacks

Germans Lose Five Or More Planes In Extensive Air Attacks Over Britain—Five Killed, Nine Wounded

By WALLACE CARROLL

British United Press. Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin.

LONDON, June 26.—Great Britain's land, sea and air forces were said officially today to have co-operated in raids on "the enemy coast line" while Royal Air Force planes hammered with high explosives at bases from which a German offensive might be launched against the British Isles.

It was understood that British landing attacks occurred on the French coast, in areas where Germans were believed to be preparing bases for attacks on Britain and in an effort to secure information on the German preparations.

The British landings at unspecified points on the German-held coast line were in the nature of successful reconnaissance raids rather than big scale operations, the ministry of information said, but "casualties were inflicted and some enemy dead fell into our hands."

The air ministry issued a communique saying that British planes had shot down three to six German fighting craft in raids near the French coast and that British bombers early today set fire to the German airdrome at Bomoen, near the Norwegian city of Bergen.

Wide Areas Of Britain Bombed

The British raids were carried out yesterday and during the night, while German airplanes were bombing wide areas of England, Wales and Scotland. Five persons were killed and nine wounded in the raids in which officials said five or more German planes were shot down.

British newspapers, meanwhile, called for firm action to prevent units of the French battle fleet from falling into the hands of Germany and Italy.

The British landings on the German or German-held coast line and the aerial raids were reported in official communiques.

"Coastal command planes early this morning raided and set fire to the German airdrome at Bomeon, near Bergen," the air ministry said. "Bombs wrecked the runway and set fire to barracks and a nearby wood. Pilots counted 40 fires on or around the airdrome."

It was stated that the airdrome was only recently completed, the R. A. F. having delayed its attack until the construction work was completed.

NAZI VICTORY SENDS MAN TO INSANE ASYLUM

British United Press Exclusive Cable To The Edmonton Bulletin

NEIVA, Colombia, June 26. — Emil Alexander, 26-year-old shoemaker, was so over-joyed when he learned of Germany's victory over France that he burned his machinery and leather, gave away all his shoes and rushed into the street, shouting "Heil Hitler! We don't have to work any more because we own the world!"

Police took him to Mibate insane asylum.

India Emergency Bill Is Passed

LONDON, June 26—The India emergency bill, the main provision of which enables the viceroy of India and the governor of Burma to conscript European British subjects, passed through the House of Commons today without division. It now goes to the House of Lords.

Flown To Hospital

PREMIER MITCHELL HEPBURN of Ontario, who was taken to a sanitarium at Battle Creek, Mich., by airplane Wednesday.

HEPBURN ILL: IS FLOWN TO SANITARIUM

Ontario Premier Taken To Battle Creek, Mich., For Check-Up

DETROIT, June 26—Condition of Premier Hepburn of Ontario who was being rushed to Battle Creek, Mich., sanitarium today was described as "precarious" by Dr. W. H. Avery of Toronto, his personal physician, during a stopover here.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., June 26.—Premier Hepburn of Ontario was taken to the Battle Creek, Mich., sanitarium by plane today for "a thorough check-up. His private secretary, Robert Gaskin, said this afternoon in a statement.

Following is the statement:

"A consultation was held on Tuesday afternoon by Dr. Douglas Carrie, St. Thomas, and Dr. W. H. Avery, Toronto, the premier's personal physician, and it was decided that, due to the premier's weakened condition as a result of pneumonia, a thorough check up should be made.

FLOWN TO HOSPITAL

"He was therefore flown to the Battle Creek sanitarium by J. P. Bickle, Toronto. It is expected he will be there one week or 10 days.

"The plane carrying Premier Hepburn on a stretcher left Lambeth airport for Detroit shortly after 12 noon EDT. (9 a.m. MST) today.

TURN FOR WORSE

It was presumed Mr. Hepburn had suddenly taken a turn for the worse and was being taken to hospital for special treatment of the bronchial trouble that had kept him confined to his home the last two weeks.

J. P. Bickle, Toronto mining man and close personal friend of the premier, came to the Lambeth airport, 10 miles west of London, this morning with his Gruman amphibian plane. The premier arrived in an ambulance owned by the St. Thomas Memorial hospital. He was transferred on a stretcher to the plane in a few minutes.

MRS. HEPBURN CRYING

The premier's wife came to the airport with her husband. Airport attendants said she had been crying.

Announcement was made June 14 at St. Thomas that the 43-year-old premier was suffering from bronchial pneumonia in the right lung. The announcement was made following a visit to the Hepburn home by Dr. William H. Avery of Toronto, attending physician.

At that time Mr. Hepburn had been ill for several days.

Speculation at the fate of the French fleet increased as the German air raids, now taking in all parts of the country, assumed a grimmer aspect, heralding perhaps an early German attempt to invade the British Isles.

Newspapers demanded immediate and forcible action to keep the French fleet from German-Italian control, on the assumption that regardless of whatever Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini promised to the contrary, they would use the fleet against Britain.

"We must not tolerate any kind of legalistic arguments, any niceties of international law, which would rob us of advantage," said the Independent-Conservative Daily Express. "We must not shrink from ruthless action."

"If this trick (of handing over the French fleet to the axis powers) works, the people of this country will hear it not with grief and amazement but with robust anger and righteous indignation," said the

No Trace Found Of Missing Plane By Search Pilot

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., June 26—One of two planes which set out today to search for Pilot W. H. Westway and his mercy-flight passengers, including a child, missing since Saturday between here and Hawk Junction, returned to the city later and its pilot, Reg Parsons, reported he had found no trace of the missing plane.

On Parsons' return, George Ponsford, director of the Ontario air service, took off to join Pilot Thomas Woodside who began searching the district earlier in the day.

U.S. Liners Going Back To Europe For More Americans

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The liners Washington and Manhattan are to be sent back to Europe to return Americans to the United States from the war zone.

State Secretary Cordell Hull announced today that the Washington will sail Friday from New York for Galway, Eire, to pick up an expected 2,000 Americans.

The Manhattan, the secretary of state added, will leave within a few days for Portugal, where some 1,300 Americans, including many now in Spain, will embark.

NO TIME FOR MANOEUVRING PREMIER SAYS

Tells Independents Session To Be Called If Action Justified

Declaring that "this is no time for political manoeuvring," Premier Aberhart on Wednesday replying to the request of the independent group in the legislature for a special session, stated that "we do not feel that your submissions warrant the calling of a special session at the present time."

His reply was contained in a letter to J. Fercy Page, M.L.A. for Edmonton, acting as secretary of the Independent group, who following an Independent members caucus here last Saturday, wrote the premier urging that the legislature be immediately called to mobilize Alberta's resources to the full for prosecution of the war effort; discussion of the Rowell-Girois report on Dominion-provincial relations and discussion of the McGillivray royal commission report on the Alberta oil industry.

CALLED IF NECESSARY

The premier said that the Independents could rest assured that as soon as events indicated need of legislative action, "a session will be promptly called."

Dear Sir: Your letter of June 24th received in which you urge the call of a special session of legislature to discuss the mobilization of the re-

EIGHT ADVANCE TO SEMI-FINALS IN GOLF PLAY

Playing through a light rain that failed to mar the quality of play, eight contestants for the Alberta District golf championship advanced to the semi-finals in the morning contested at the Highlands golf course Wednesday. The semi-finals will be played during the afternoon with the 36-hole final being place Thursday.

Two of the hardest fought matches seen in the city in a long time were place, both needing extra holes before a winner was decided. Wood of Stettler won on the 19th green from Goula of Hughenden to advance to the semi-finals, while R. Wellman of High River had to go to the 20th green before winning from K. Corsen of Vermilion. Other semi-fgnalists are Stan Howard of Lethbridge, who defeated Dr. Mackenzie of Medicine Hat three and one; and J. Aitken, Rosedale, who defeated N. Beatty, Red Deer, four and two.

Ships Launched

OTTAWA, June 26. — A month ahead of schedule, ships of Canada's naval construction program are now being launched at ports in eastern Canada, Munitions Minister Howe announced today. Further launchings in the $50,000,000, 90-ship program will probably occur almost weekly until the end of the year.

Beaverbrook Declares Canadian-Built Planes Welcome, Satisfactory

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 26.—Production of aircraft in this country reached a new high record in the week ended June 22, it was announced today by Lord Beaverbrook, minister for aircraft production.

The Canadian-born minister gave no figures for the week's output, but said it embraced all sections of production—frames, engines and armaments.

PRODUCTION RISES

Lord Beaverbrook said British production of aircraft has risen steadily in the five weeks he has been in office and all losses suffered since May 10, the day Hitler invaded the Low Countries, in fighting in France and Flanders have been made up.

"We still have a long way to go," he said. "A very great deal must be done. Every effort humanly possible must be put forward."

Importations from the United States are continuous and improving, while Canadian-built planes are being sent here in a steady stream, Lord Beaverbrook said.

"These Canadian planes are very welcome and satisfactory," he stated. "We have tested them with British planes and Canadian performances are more than first rate."

His department, Lord Beaverbrook said, had the full co-operation of Labor, men and women working day and night and day, seven days a week.

The war in the air already had demonstrated the superiority of British machines, particularly Spitfire and Hurrcane fighters. He is determined to add to this superiority and much of his time, he said, is being devoted to plans to improve performances.

Military Commander Of French North Africa Says Government Advised Him To Defend Territory.

By ADOLPH DA ROSA
British United Press Exclusive Cable To The Edmonton Bulletin

TANGIER, International Zone, June 26. — Gen. Auguste Nogues, military commander of French North Africa, was reported today to have made a radio speech at Rabat, Morocco, saying that his government had advised him that France's African colonies would not be abandoned without a fight.

The newspaper Espana here quoted Gen. Nogues as follows: "The armistice has been signed but the government, in answer to urgent demarches which reflected the wishes of entire North Africa, informed me officially:

"1—There is no question of abandoning to any foreign power without fighting the whole or a part of the territories where we are exercising sovereign or protectorate rights.

"2—The possibility of military occupation by a foreign power of any part of north Africa is excluded.

"3—The government is not disposed to consent to a reduction of the effectives stationed in this territory.

"For the moment the integrity of North Africa and its means of defence appear assured.

Press Boasts To Cover Up Italian Jitters

By REYNOLDS PACKARD
British United Press Exclusive Cable To The Edmonton Bulletin

ROME, June 26—The Italian press today splashed its front pages with windy stories claiming that Italy was planning to take a prominent part in any attack by the axis powers on Great Britain. Even the details of the Italian armistice were subordinated to the anti-British blasts in the Italian papers.

Foreign observers attributed the press campaign to Italian nervousness as to what will happen should Hitler and Mussolini fail to take over the French fleet.

Britain already has powerful navy units somewhere in the Mediterranean and with the French fleet still in action—Italian defences would be doubly threatened.

Confiscation Of Ford Interests In Canada Urged

OTTAWA, June 26.—M. J. Coldwell (C.C.F., Rosetown-Biggar), demanded in the Commons today that the government take into custody all Henry Ford's industrial interests in Canada.

He declared Mr. Ford's refusal to make airplane motors for the United Kingdom was something that could not be dismissed with a "passing reference" in the House of Commons.

Earlier attention of the House had been called to Ford's attitude by Conservative Leader Hanson.

In the Senate the question also was raised by Senator F. B. Black (Con., New Brunswick).

He said the Canadian government should cancel all purchases of Ford cars and other equipment and forbid further sales in Canada if the report about the engines was true.

CHUNGKING, June 26—The Canadian Mission hospital at Chungking, provisional capital of China, was bombed and wrecked at noon today when more than 100 Japanese airplanes in four groups attacked the city and suburbs.

ITALY GAINS SLIM AREA IN FRENCH ALPS

Terms Of Armistice Give Duce Full Rights Over Jibuti

ROME, June 26—Italian occupation of a small Alpine area in France already conquered by Fascist forces, use of the French port of Jibuti in East Africa and broad demilitarized zones to separate Italians and French in Europe and Africa are principal conditions imposed by the French-Italian armistice.

The terms, announced last night, call for demilitarization of the coastal territory of French Somaliland

For the duration of the war between Italy and the British Empire, France also must demilitarize her Mediterranean naval bases.

No mention was made of Nice and Savoy in France or French Corsica—territories Italians long have desired.

As in the French-German terms, the agreement stipulates that the French fleet be collected at French ports and that hostilities cease in all French possessions and mandated territories as well as in continental France. Some units of the fleet are

NO PASSPORTS FOR CITIZENS UNITED STATES

OTTAWA, June 26 — Prime Minister King told the Commons today no passports will be required from United States citizens visiting Canada.

He was answering Conservative Leader Hanson who asked the government to clarify the position in view of the new U. S. regulation necessitating Canadians visiting that country to have passports after July 1.

Mr. King said steps had been taken to strengthen border control including stricter immigration inspection at border points and the establishment of officers at points not previously covered.

All that would be necessary for persons coming to Canada would be an ordinary border official that they are U.S. citizens and are coming to Canada for legitimate purposes.

OTTAWA, June 26—Canadians living in the United States and who wish to remain in that country after July 1 will have to obtain passports the same as Canadian visitors to that republic.

Permanent residents of the United States are advised to apply to the Canadian legation at Washington for their passports because passport offices here are inundated with applications.

Ambassador Resigns

LONDON, June 26—Chas. Corbin, French ambassador to London, was reported today to have resigned.

Neville Chamberlain's Future Uncertain As Group Seeks Oust Him

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 26—The future of Neville Chamberlain as a member of the Churchill government is becoming more and more uncertain as a result of a big bloc of parliamentary votes which are determined to oust him.

For almost a month the former prime minister has been the target of behind-the-scenes attack for his part in failing to organize the manpower and resources of the nation during the first nine months of the war. At least once Prime Minister Churchill has stepped in to save his cabinet colleague but the movement against the "man of Munich" has continued.

In some quarters it is reported that David Lloyd George may enter the Churchill administration in the near future, possibly replacing Mr. Chamberlain.

The whole situation is complicated by the fact that Mr. Chamberlain still commands a big following in the House of Commons as leader of the Conservative party. His following is by no means as large as when he was prime minister but it is large enough to command respect.

Perhaps the biggest single factor which holds Mr. Chamberlain in the government is the belief—and it has been advanced more than once by Mr. Churchill—that this is no time for political recriminations. It is also being argued that it would be calamitous to divide the political forces of the Conservative, Liberal and Labor parties which have been working as a team for the first time since the war started.

Fighting Men And Ships Of the Desert

British troops in Egypt, such as the Scottish troops shown in a trench on the desert, have taken the initiative in combat against Italian forces and have shown their fighting superiority over enemy troops in fierce frontier struggles. Modern ships of the deserts, fast tanks, aid the British troops, while Royal Air Force planes are reported to be playing havoc with Italian ports and colonies in Africa.

Hong Kong Reports Hostilities Under Way In Indo-China

Japan Soon To Proclaim "Asiatic Monroe Doctrine" In Far East—Sweeping Warning Against All Powers

HONG KONG, June 29—A "private message" has been received in Hong Kong stating hostilities had begun in French Indo-China, the Hong Kong Telegraph said today. The British-owned newspaper gave no hint of the source of its information and made it clear the report had no confirmation from other sources.

The report followed persistent rumors during the past week that Japanese troops from Kwangsi province in China were moving toward the French border.

(In Tokyo it was announced cryptically that crack Japanese troops nine days ago acted "by force" to cut the supply route from Indo-China to the Central Chinese government at Chungking. It was not disclosed in Tokyo whether these troops actually had entered Indo-China territory.

STRONG STEPS TAKEN

(Japan has taken strong steps to halt the shipment of war supplies through Indo-China to China, including among other measures the dispatch of warships to Haiphong, the French territory's principal port.)

Bridges spanning the Schumchun river, forming a part of the Chinese frontier of the British crown colony, were dynamited by British troops in an action described as "purely precautionary and defensive."

The measures were taken shortly after the Japanese army announced Japanese forces had reached Lungchow, Kwangsi province, near the French Indo-China border.

An authorized British statement declared there was no cause for alarm and expressed the belief the presence of Japanese troops across the border was for the avowed

HOOVER OPEN FOR BID FROM PARTY PARLEY

Wendell Willkie, Thomas Dewey In Close Race For Nomination

PHILADELPHIA, June 26.—Herbert Hoover left himself available for a possible presidential nomination today by declining to say whether he would accept the Republican leadership if it were offered by the 1940 national convention.

While Hoover talked to reporters, Governor Harold F. Stassen of Minnesota, the permanent keynote speaker, told his state delegation that his vote would be cast for Wendell Willkie, Minnesota has 22 votes.

An Alabama caucus voted to yield the state's first position in the convention roll call to New York for the nomination of Thomas E. Dewey.

This procedure would put the name of the 38-year-old district attorney before the delegates prior to those of Willkie, and Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, two of his major rivals.

Hoover said that he was not seeking public office. But he said also there should be no "interference" with the selection of a nominee in a free and open manner.

Isolationists Drop Crusade

By WILLIAM H. LAWRENCE
British United Press
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

PHILADELPHIA, June 26.—Isolationists today dropped their fight for a specific Republican platform pledge against the shedding of American blood on foreign soil when former vice president Charles G. Dawes intervened as peacemaker.

Dawes, also former U.S. ambassador to Great Britain and author of the Dawes plan of German reparations after the last world war, apparently advised C. Wayland Brooks, Illinois G. O. P. senatorial nominee not to split the resolutions committee by insisting upon such a pledge.

CANUCKS MUST REALIZE GRIM PERILS OF WAR

OTTAWA, Ont., June 26.—Urging the "bringing about of a much more general and if possible universal appreciation of the peril of Canada," Senator C. P. Beaubien (Con., Montreal) presented the first report of the special committee on war co-operation in the senate yesterday.

The report proposed it should be brought home to the people of Canada through the press, the radio, newsreel theatre and platform, "the indescribable catastrophe defeat would bring to each and all of the people of our country and of the immediate imperative need that every citizen, young and old, become animated and inspired with a sense of duty and sacrifice to the end that we may insure the preservation of our institutions and our nation."

The report continued, "it was recognized on the part of all members of the committee that such a conviction is now held by the majority of Canadians, but that there are some of our population in all the provinces still more or less indifferent; others (small in number) more or less dangerous and very many without any adequate appreciation of the stark realities of this hour."

NO LIMIT ON WAR EFFORT BRITONS TOLD

LONDON, June 26.—Sir Kingsley Wood, chancellor of the exchequer, told Britons today that "no limit can be put to our war effort; we must throw everything in."

In a luncheon address the chancellor said more than £4,000,000 (about $17,800,000) had been offered in response to the government's recent appeal for interest-free loans, and that one man signing himself "Confidence" had sent a gift of £200,000 "without any condition."

Sir Kingsley said one of the vital reasons for confidence in the future was the fact that the nation's resources were throwing everything in and are sending, in increasing measure, men, materials and munitions.

"They will always be by our side," he added.

BRITISH UNITS RAID ENEMY COAST AREAS

independent Daily Mirror. "Have we lost all initiative, prompt decision and determination, causing inswift action?" Prime Minister Winston Churchill had said that the government learned with grief and amazement of the French fleet's fate.

The government still gave no word that it was going to keep the French fleet, or any part of it, from German and Italian control.

Gen. Charles de Gaulle, head of a new French nationalist committee formed in opposition to the Bordeaux government, continued his task of stimulating resistance in the French colonies, and Edouard Herriot, Joseph Paul-Boncour and Leon Blum, all former French premiers, arrived here yesterday. It was still reported that Paul Reynaud, who was ousted to make way for the "peace" cabinet, was on his way.

BOMBINGS EXTENDED

German planes during the night extended their bombings to northeast Scotland. Air alarms were general over the eastern coast of Scotland and England, and inland there were alarms in the midlands and in Wales.

Southeast Scotland got the bulk of the damage. It was reported that a mother and her daughter were killed and the father and son severely wounded, when a bomb wrecked their home in that area.

Three of the planes were brought down in Scotland by terrific fire from anti-aircraft batteries or in spectacular engagements with British fighter planes.

Many of the raiders attempting to break through defenses in eastern England were chased out to sea again after crossing the coast at a great height.

CIVILIAN CASUALTIES

	Killed	Injured
June 19	12	30
June 20	6	60
June 23	3	5
June 25	5	13

A government communique said that "British casualties were slight in today's raids, that property damage was not serious and that "no serious damage was done to any military objective."

The alertness of the "parashots"—volunteers ready to intercept any troops landing by parachute—was evidenced in Scotland where they joined police and air raid precaution wardens to hunt the wild Scottish countryside for the wreckage of enemy raiders brought down in flames.

By H. L. PERCY
British United Press Exclusive Cable

LONDON, June 26.—British troops and naval units recently landed at various points on the enemy coastline, contacted German troops and inflicted casualties, it was stated officially today.

The locale of the landings was not specified.

The British forces suffered no casualties, it was claimed, and some of the enemy dead fell into British hands.

The ministry of information said that "in co-operation with the Royal Air Force naval and military raiders yesterday carried out successful reconnaissances on the enemy coast line."

CONTACT MADE

"Casualties were inflicted and some enemy dead fell into our hands. Our forces suffered no casualties."

The landings, it was pointed out, might have been made in French, Belgian, Dutch British or Norwegian territory as well as on the coast of Germany itself. No information on that point was given officially.

It was believed probable that the British attacks were made as part of the effort to break up German preparations for a blitzkrieg offensive against the British Isles.

In this connection the Royal Air Force recently had made regular and extensive raids on German bases in the low countries and elsewhere that might be used effectively for direct attack by air or sea on Britain.

TURKEY, IRAQ IN ACCORD ON DEFENCE PACT

Will Guard French-Mandated Syria In Collaboration With Britain

LONDON, June 26.—An agreement between Turkey and Iraq for the joint defence of Iraq and French-mandated Syria in collaboration with Great Britain was concluded today at Ankara, Exchange Telegraph agency reported today in a dispatch from Istanbul.

The accord was the fruit of consultations between the Iraq ministers of foreign exchange and justice, now in Ankara and Turkish cabinet ministers.

Since France surrendered to the axis powers both Iraq, which maintains close treaty relations with Britain, and Turkey, which has mutual assistance pacts with France and Britain, have shown increasing anxiety over Syria.

The Turks have feared that Italy might attempt to succeed France as the occupying power in Syria and establish a base for expansion in the near east.

Fall Of Turkish Cabinet Predicted

ISTANBUL, Turkey, June 26—The fall of the Turkish cabinet of Premier Refik Saydam and foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu was predicted today by informed quarters.

A re-orientation of Turkish foreign policy, including strict neutrality and more friendly relations with Russia was expected. Saracoglue's retirement was considered a certainty because i.e lacked sympathy for Russia.

Bulgarian newspapers said that Russian Premier-foreign Minister V. M. Molotov had requested the Rumanian and Turkish ambassadors to Moscow to inform their respective countries that the time was opportune to start negotiations to solve each other's outstanding problems.

sources of the province, the Rowell Commission report on inter-provincial relationships and Mr. Gillivray Royal Commission report on the Alberta oil situation.

May I say first of all that the action that has already been taken by the Alberta government should have removed from your group any grave concern in these matters.

CO-OPERATION

For your information I should like to tell you that the Alberta government has left nothing undone in the mobilization of its resources and in its full co-operation with the Dominion government in this great crisis.

It would seem useless for me to enumerate for your instruction the many things that have already been done—things which could not wait for legislative action without being too late. If your group has been following closely the course of events, I am satisfied that you should be aware of the same. I consider this no time for political manoeuvring. We must get on with the job.

With regard to the discussion of the Rowell and the McGillivray reports, it would seem that this is a little premature.

There is no particular rush about these matters at a time like this. Surely we should await the pleasure of the Dominion government with regard to inter-provincial relationship when such tremendous issues are at stake and at a time when the Wartime Measures Act is directing all inter-provincial affairs.

DEBT REFUNDING

The pressing for the refunding of our debts and the new allotment of taxation rights at such a time as this when our whole concentrated effort should be directed in the support of the Empire in the winning of the war would be quite out of place and would surely indicate a lack of proper judgment of the fitness of things.

The issue is of greater moment than that of technical discussion and disagreement on such matters. We have no time to fiddle while Rome burns.

You may rest assured that as soon as the course of events indicates the need of legislative action, a session will be promptly called, but we do not feel that your submissions warrant the calling of a special session at the present time.

OBJECTIONS TO JOB INSURANCE ARE WITHDRAWN

OTTAWA, June 26 — Letters showing three provinces which formerly opposed an amendment to the British North America Act to clothe the federal parliament with power to enact an unemployment insurance act were now agreeable to such an amendment were tabled in the House of Commons yesterday by Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Letters from the premiers of three provinces, Alberta, Quebec and New Brunswick, were in answer to queries sent them last January by Mr. King asking their assent.

Premier Aberhart of Alberta wrote that his government found it hard to see how contributory unemployment insurance could help the workman.

The Alberta government, however, would not stand in the way of what the other eight provinces believed would be an advantage.

"We will fall in line with the other provinces with these reservations," he wrote.

Rallies French

GENERAL CHARLES DE GAULLE, former French undersecretary for national defence, has formed a new French government in London and issued a call for all "free Frenchmen" to rally to the side of Britain to carry on the war against Germany.

French Legion Being Formed By Gen. De Gaulle

LONDON, June 26.—Gen Charles De Gaulle said today he is forming a French legion in Britain from the nucleus of the poilus who escaped from Dunkerque—to "fight on to victory with the cream of France's maritime strength."

The Italians joined Germany in assurances that the fleet would not be used against Britain and added a promise that at conclusion of peace Italy "does not intend to lay claim to the French fleet."

(The Tunis radio broadcast last night a communique of the French commander of North Africa declaring that "no foreign power" would be permitted to occupy any part of Tunisia, Algeria or Morocco.

NEW FRENCH LINE

(An informed source in Palestine declared a new French line would be formed in North Africa and through Egypt and Palestine to Syria for resistance to Germany and Italy, using as a nucleus the French near east army trained by General Maxime Weygand.)

THE Axis alliance parallels the French-German terms in many respects, including a provision that Italy may denounce it at any time if the French fail to fulfill the conditions.

BERLIN, June 26.—The terms of the German-French armistice, providing for surrender of all France's fleet save that part of it necessary to police French colonies, were officially announced last night.

NEW AUTO TAX WILL CONSERVE WAR EXCHANGE

WINDSOR, Ont., June 26.—Wallace Campbell, president of the Ford Motor Co. of Canada Ltd., said yesterday the new tax on motor car sales is one measure designed to conserve exchange and set in effect to prohibit the purchase of higher priced cars imported into Canada fully built.

We are in accord with the expressed policy of the government in the matter of pay-as-you-go basis as far as possible, and will make whatever adjustments are necessary in our business to meet this requirement," he said.

"As the conservation of exchange is essentially what is the question that even greater restriction might well be placed on the sale of all types of automobiles which are imported in complete form."

Mr. Campbell said the new taxes would also affect lower and medium priced cars made in Canada, which would be priced higher.

In addition to the direct taxation on Ford products all imported materials used in the manufacture of automobiles were subject to a new 10 per cent import duty.

Lord Mayor Fund Over £2,000,000 But More Needed

LONDON, June 26.—The Red Cross and St. John's fund of the Lord Mayor of London now amounts to more than £2,000,000, the British Broadcasting Corporation reported last night.

Sir Philip Chetwood, chairman of the joint Red Cross and St. John organization in London said "we shall want all that money and very much more."

He said "we have lost all our ambulances that went to France. We got a considerable quantity of our stores away from the north German ports we were used and at the last minute we were refused shipping space for them."

purpose of mopping up guerilla bands and closing the highway leading west from Mira Bay north of Hong Kong.

The newspaper China Mail reported that Japanese warships had arrived off Haiphong, French Indo-China, and had "Thrown out a blockading screen, presumably with the intention of searching ships using that port."

CHINESE EVACUATE

Chinese refugees said that between 70 and 80 per cent of the Chinese population had moved out of the French-leased territory of Kwangchowwan in fear of a Japanese attempt to seize that area.

Kwangchowwan, about 275 miles southwest of here, has an area of about 325 square miles and a population of 220,000. It has been leased from China by the French since 1898 and administered by the governor-general of French Indo-China.

It was reported that seven Japanese planes flew over Kwangchowwan yesterday in the course of numerous raids on Chinese territory farther inland.

Japan Will Oppose Transfer Of Colonies

TOKYO, June 26.—The newspaper Asahi said today that Japan soon would proclaim an "Asiatic Monroe Doctrine" to prevent the Far Eastern possessions of European nations from falling to Germany or Italy as spoils of war.

Japan, said Asahi, will issue a sweeping pronouncement warning all powers against interference of any kind in all territories of East Asia, the dictum applying to Germany and Italy as well as to Great Britain and neutral nations.

The declaration would oppose the transfer of territories and any change in their present status, either through cession or force, Japan, said Asahi, now is prepared to establish a guarantee of the autonomy of East Asia.

DOMINANT FACTOR.

The present government is not inclined to link Japan's course either with the Rome-Berlin axis, with Britain or with the United States. The cabinet simply is aiming to establish Japan definitely as the dominant factor in East Asia, consolidating her political and economic position, semi-official sources said.

A powerful group which last year advocated Japan's participation in the Italian-German military alliance now is reported campaigning on the basis of Germany's victories in the European war. These elements are clamoring for Japan's outright alignment with the axis powers, a step considered impossible as long as Premier Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai and Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita are in office.

Should circumstances force co-operation with Italy and Germany succeed in ousting Premier Yonai, it was believed certain that the new government would openly align itself with the axis powers and possibly with Russia as a silent partner.

In any case, it was pointed out, the proposed "Asiatic Monroe doctrine" is designed to establish Japan's sphere of influence and priority in advance of changes in colonial ownership which are believed imminent.

Secrecy Veils U.S. Fleet Whereabouts

WASHINGTON, June 26—Secrecy thrown about the sudden departure of the main United States fleet from Hawaii heightened uncertainty today after official intentions toward Japanese moves in the far east.

Both White House and state department turned aside questions about the fleet with cryptic remarks that they had no news.

Undetermined was whether the big battle force was steaming toward the U.S. mainland, for South American waters, or farther out toward the Orient.

Others saw the possibility that western hemisphere defence had become so urgent that the administration had decided upon a large naval demonstration in South American waters. Two American warships are there already and a third has received orders to join them.

No reports of preparations for the fleet have yet come from the Panama Canal Zone.

Russia Speeds Production Due To War Dangers

MOSCOW, June 26—Because of increasing war danger and the need of greater production, the Soviet Russian government adopted today a new working week—six days of work and a day of rest—to replace its revolutionary week of five working days and a day of rest on the sixth.

Abandonment of the six-day week, which was one of the changes wrought by the Bolshevist revolution, was recommended by the Soviet trade unions and adopted by the government.

Petain Installed By Nazi Fuehrer, Express Declares

LONDON, June 26—The surrender of Marshal Petain's French government "is a transfer of allegiance from one camp to another in this world civil war," Lord Beaverbrook's Evening Standard said yesterday. "The Marshal did not receive his credentials of government from the French people," the London standard stated. "He has received them from the hands of the German Fuehrer."

Eire Becomes Attack Conscious; Invaders To Get Irish Welcome

By J. NORMAN LODGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

DUBLIN, June 26.—Eire has become "attack conscious" and the term "invasion" is frowned upon by the censor. From whom an attack might come, or on which side of the little shamrock isle, official sources decline to say.

Some weeks ago there was "scare" talk by members of the government. The "man in the pub" just turned back to his pint of stout.

Now that is changed.

SOLDIERS IN EVIDENCE

Through Dublin streets where the only men in uniform a month ago were police, soldiers swing along in forest green. They carry swagger sticks—but wear bandoliers of cartridges and have rifles easily accessible.

Airplanes drone overhead, and watchful eyes scan the Atlantic and the long approaches to every coastal town.

Figures on the army's present strength are guarded carefully but high officers say recruiting has been satisfactory. They promise an "Irish welcome" for any attacking force.

NORTH IRELAND ALERT

Northern Ireland is alert, too.

OTTAWA, June 26—Louis Binder and Roy Saunders, whose conviction for violation of the defence of Canada regulations was quashed by the Ontario appeal court yesterday in Toronto, were re-arrested here today 30 seconds after they were released from Carlton country jail. They will be interned.

Secretary-Guard Of Trotzky Killed

MEXICO CITY, June 26—Police announced yesterday that the body of Sheldon Harle, secretary-guard of Leon Trotsky, had been found in an abandoned house near Mexico City. He had been shot dead. Harle disappeared May 24 when a machine-gun attack was made on the home of Trotsky, exiled former Soviet Russian war commissar.

ENTRANCES TO PANAMA CANAL MINED, CLAIM

NEW YORK, June 26—The Daily News, in a copyrighted article today, said the United States had mined both entrances to the Panama canal, had rushed heaviest railroad artillery to the Atlantic side of the zone and had placed the zone's defence forces on virtually a war footing.

The article, written by Lowell Limpus under a Panama dateline, said that with 30,000 men under arms, military authorities called the manoeuvres an "emergency rehearsal."

"But with intense activity still continuing," the article said, "qualified observers believed the army was getting ready for real trouble on short notice."

Change In Act To Allow Unemployed Insurance Sought

House Approves Resolution Petitioning His Majesty For Amendment To British North America Act

OTTAWA, June 26.—After less than three hours' debate the House of Commons yesterday adopted a resolution petitioning His Majesty for an amendment to the British North America Act empowering the Dominion parliament to enact a compulsory contributory unemployment insurance measure.

Expressions of opinion came from spokesmen from all parties and several private members. All welcomed the move toward this phase of social security but many protested that it did not go far enough.

The resolution, moved by Justice Minister Ernest Lapointe was adopted without a vote and a similar motion will be made in the senate, probably today.

MAY PASS THIS SESSION

Once the resolution has passed both houses a joint address will be cabled to the King asking His Majesty to place before the United Kingdom parliament a measure for amending the British North America Act that the Dominion parliament shall be given exclusive jurisdiction in the field of unemployment insurance.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the House he was confident the necessary amendment could be obtained in time to pass the insurance act at the present session.

Mr. Lapointe announced all provinces had signified their willingness to have the Dominion parliament invade this field of their jurisdiction providing the necessary constitutional amendment is obtained.

Unemployment insurance has been held up on previous occasions by the constitutional barrier forbidding the Dominion to enact any measure which would compel contributions from workers and employers.

In 1936 the supreme court of Canada and the judicial committee of the privy council found the unemployment insurance measure initiated by the Bennett government in 1934 and enacted into law to be outside the competence of the Dominion parliament to enact.

HANSON SUPPORTS

The Conservative leader, Hon R. B. Hanson supported the resolution but expressed regret unemployment insurance had not been adopted at the first opportunity after the Liberal party promised it at their national convention in 1919.

Recalling that announcement of policy, 21 years ago, M. J. Coldwell, spokesman for the C.C.F. party, said the Liberal promise had now reached its "majority" at a time when the party had the greatest majority in history.

He hoped the government would move speedily to enact the measure at the present session.

Mr. King said the 1919 policy had not been confined to unemployment insurance but dealt with social security generally and his governments since then had considered old age pensions of first importance. They came in 1927.

Difficulty in obtaining agreement of the provinces to the necessary constitutional change had also been a stumbling block. The prime minister tabled the correspondence he has had with provincial governments resulting in unanimous agreement.

"GLITTERING BUBBLE"

John Blackmore, Social Credit leader, described unemployment insurance as "a glittering bubble" which would mean nothing once it was achieved. Nevertheless he supported it as a means of proving to the people that it was useless as a means of meeting present day social problems.

Use of the national credit as a means of distributing the abundance which Canada can produce was Mr. Blackmore's solution to the problem of want.

Walter F. Kuhl (N.D., Jasper-Edson), expressed his belief that if the measure followed in the footsteps of the government's other legislation, the people of Canada could "rest assured" that necessary funds for the scheme would be raised either by taxation or borrowing instead of through a distribution of profits.

The C.C.F. party accepted unemployment insurance as "an installment" and not as a complete solution to social problems, said Angus MacInnis (C.C.F., Vancouver East). It was by no means the whole answer, but it was better than nothing.

FORD REFUSES MAKE ENGINES FOR BRITAIN

Cancellation Of Plan Is Announced Tuesday By U.S. Commission

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Negotiations between the United States government and Henry Ford for the mass production of airplane engines collapsed yesterday.

William S. Knudson of the national defence commission announced Ford's refusal to manufacture engines for Great Britain had forced cancellation of plans for early mass production of Rolls Royce motors by the Ford Motor Company.

"Co-operation in the production of this important military equipment will be sought elsewhere by the national defence advisory commission," a statement from commission headquarters said.

AGREEMENT REPORTED

Congressional sources reported several days ago that the Ford company had agreed to build 2,000 airplane engines for the United States and 8,000 for Britain. They said this volume would be sufficient to warrant the use of mass production methods, and rushed a $43,000,000 appropriation through Congress to finance the United States government's order.

Uncertainty developed when Ford declared he would produce military equipment only for defence of United States.

The defence commission announcement said that, on Monday, Ford confirmed to Knudsen in Detroit his public declaration that he would not contract with the Anglo-French purchasing commission for plane engines.

Events leading up to Tuesday's announcement, as recounted by the defence commission's statement:

On May 31 Ford motor officials, including Edsel Ford, president of the company, conferred with the treasury department regarding participation in an engine production program and agreed to study the Rolls Royce design, patents on which had been turned over to the United States by Britain.

EDSEL FORD AGREED

On June 11, Edsel Ford and his associates conferred with Knudsen, former General Motors president, and Dr. George J. Mead, head of Knudsen's aeronautical unit in the defence commission. Ford was informed, said Knudsen, that motors produced for the British government would have to be covered by a contract separate from that of the United States war department.

Edsel Ford telephoned on the following day, Knudsen said, that such an arrangement was satisfactory, and the Anglo-French commission arranged with the British government for a commitment covering 6,000 engines. The United States government agreed to take 2,000.

"The combined quantity," said the defence commission statement, "was sufficient to justify the undertaking, as it would assure a more reasonable cost of both motor and equipment for its manufacture."

DRAWINGS DELIVERED

Contract negotiations were started, Rolls Royce engine drawings were delivered to the Ford company June 19, and on the same day Henry Ford announced he would not produce engines for Great Britain.

In the Detroit conference Monday, the defence commission said, Ford declared he would make "any number of Rolls Royce engines" for the United States but not for Britain.

Ford's decision, the statement said, "has necessitated termination of negotiations."

Will Only Do Work For United States

DETROIT, June 26.—Informed the national advisory defence commission had announced that his refusal to make aviation engines for Great Britain had forced cancellation of negotiations for the early mass output of the motors by the Ford Motor Company, Henry Ford said last night:

"My offer to make airplanes, aviation engines or anything else the United States government needs for defensive purposes still stands. My original proposal was to make airplanes on a mass production basis—up to 1,000 a day within six months—under certain conditions. The conditions among other things specified that they were to be for the defence of this country.

"My offer was made in response to President Roosevelt's plea for 50,000 airplanes. It still stands."

Advised that William S. Knudsen, a member of the advisory defence commission, had said that "co-operation" in the production of the engines would be sought elsewhere, Ford said that, in entering into discussions with the commission, "it was my understanding that we were dealing with the United States government and that the commission represented this government—not that of Great Britain or any other foreign nation."

TOURISTS ARE AMAZED FIND CANUCKS CALM

British United Press Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

CALGARY, June 26—Surprise at the absence of "wartime jitters" in Canada was expressed by a party of 100 United States tourists, passing through here by train.

A Chicago man said uneasiness over the war was more apparent in the United States than here. "We expected to be met with questions and surly remarks on why the United States isn't in the war," he said, "but there hasn't been a single word mentioned about it on the whole trip."

A New York man wanted to know if the cheery Canadian outlook was a "false face" used for tourists.

Swift Canadian Destroyers See Continuous Operation In European Waters

OTTAWA, June 26.—Speedy destroyers of the Royal Canadian Navy, the senior fighting service, have seen action in European waters, Rear Admiral Percy C. Nelles told The Canadian Press last night.

Confirming the London report a Canadian naval ship took part in the initial stage of the evacuation of British and Canadian diplomats from Bordeaux, temporary capital of France, Admiral Nelles said "this is only one of the many instances of the operations of our ships overseas."

"Units of the Canadian navy have been in continuous operation since leaving Canada but the exact nature of these operations cannot be divulged."

Naval headquarters here kept in close touch with movement of Canadian fighting ships through the British admiralty but no further information was disclosed concerning the Bordeaux incident.

Speaking of the other growing activities of the Canadian navy, Admiral Nelles said that the first group of men and officers of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve arrived safely in England for training and some will operate on active service with ships of the Royal Navy.

A second group is enroute to England and a third group will be sent to support the Royal Navy as the need arises.

Meantime, Canadian shipyards are hard at work building more ships for the R.C.N., including turning three large passenger boats into armed cruisers.

British Envoy 'Scoops' World On Armistice

NEW YORK, June 26—Sir Ronald Campbell, British ambassador to France, was credited in a British broadcast heard here tonight with having given the world a "scoop" by obtaining the terms of the French-German armistice in advance of their publication.

This privacy and publication of the terms by Britain Sunday, it was stated, resulted in a softening of the terms of the armistice.

The speaker was Vernon Bartlett, member of parliament and well-known political writer. Sir Ronald, he said, had all the difficulties in the world to get the German terms for the armistice and the French counter proposals, which weren't very much better."

CANADIAN ENVOY, VANIER, REACHES LONDON SAFELY

By SAM ROBERTSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 26.—Lt.-Col. G. P. Vanier, Canadian Minister to France, reached London and safely Tuesday after being rescued by a warship from the deck of a tiny sardine smack that tossed about the angry Bay of Biscay until "even bombing would have been welcome relief."

Jean Desy, Canadian minister to Holland and Belgium, who made his way to Paris after the German invasion of the Low Countries, is reported to have safely reached Lisbon. Official information received in London did not state how he travelled over the refugee-glutted transportation lines.

Together with Col. Vanier in the French sardine boat which put off from a beach in southwestern France were Sir Ronald Campbell, British ambassador to France; Capt. Colin Baillemarale, South African minister to France; and Pierre Dupuy, first secretary of the Canadian Legation.

For three hours they careened about the bay with the little fisherman "behaving like a drunken sailor" until one of the British warships operating in continental waters came alongside.

Soviet Red Troops Taking Over Guard Lithuanian Border

STOCKHOLM, June 26 — The Soviet Red army has taken over from Lithuanian forces the guarding of the frontier with Germany, the Kaunas correspondent of the Stockholm Tidningen reported yesterday.

The same newspaper in a dispatch from Tallinn, Estonia said the chief of the Estonian armed police had been arrested when caught burning papers from their records.

BRITAIN TAKES CONTRACTS OF FRENCH NATION

NEW YORK, June 26—Arthur Purvis, director general of the British purchasing commission, last night announced that on June 17, 1940, all existing contracts for war materials entered into by the French government with United States suppliers, were assigned to the British government.

"The British government has assumed all liabilities of the French government in connection with such contracts," the announcement said.

The date specified, June 7, was the day the Petain government asked Germany for her terms for a separate peace.

The announcement was issued in the name of the British purchasing commission solely. Over recent months the British purchasing commission had been operating in close conjunction with the French purchasing commission under the joint title of "Anglo-French purchasing commission." No mention was made in the brief statement of this joint group which now presumably passes into history with the French capitulation and the transfer of contracts to the British government.

BRITAIN FINDS NEAT METHOD SAVING PAPER

British United Press
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

CALGARY, June 26—When Great Britain went into total war, apparently nothing was overlooked.

A neat way of economizing on paper was disclosed with the arrival in Calgary of a letter from the Old Country. The envelope was sealed by means of a label with a gummed edge. On this label was written the name and address of the addressee. The stamp also was affixed to the label. A line of fine print advised: "Tear off this label and use envelope over and over again."

Boy On Destroyer Gets Decoration For Brave Action

LONDON, June 26—The award of a distinguished service medal to a boy on the destroyer Shanti Boy, first cleaner James Harris, featured a lengthy list of naval awards announced last night in connection with operations in Norwegian and Netherlands waters.

Harris was "decorated for courage and resource in operations off the Norwegian coast," it was stated, in the citation. The list as published is a supplement to the London Gazette contained seven distinguished service orders, 25 distinguished service Crosses, 29 distinguished service medals and 64 officers and men mentioned in dispatches.

HUGE TAX LOAD IS SHOULDERED BY AMERICANS

New Income and Profit Taxes Will Increase U.S. Revenues

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The United States yesterday shouldered its heaviest federal tax load since the first Great War.

President Roosevelt's signature made law of a bill estimated to raise an additional $4,002,500,000 in the next five years by adding 2,200,000 citizens to the list of income tax payers and by raising the rates on income, profits, excise, gift and inheritance taxes. The money will be used to finance the defence program authorized by congress.

ADDED REVENUE

The treasury calculated the law would increase anticipated federal revenue in the 1941 fiscal year, which begins Monday, from $8,682,300,000 (including social security funds, which are now outside the budget) to $6,367,600,000. An extra $894,300,000 is expected to be raised in each of the following four years.

Officials estimated that 2,200,000 persons would pay federal income taxes for the first time because of reduction of personal exemptions for heads of families from $2,500 to $2,000 and for single persons from $1,000 to $800. This lowering of exemptions also will result in increasing payments of those now taxed.

To facilitate the defence program, the act authorized the treasury to borrow immediately against the five-year proceeds of the measure. Sale of $4,000,000,000 "national defence notes" was authorized and the national debt limit was increased from $45,000,000,000 to $49,000,000,000. While the federal debt now is $42,918,209,181, regular federal expenditures had been expected to exhaust the old debt limit within the next year, without provision for the extraordinary defence expenditures.

EFFECTIVE DATES

Effective dates of the tax increases vary. The income tax provisions apply to incomes earned during the 1940 calendar year, and will be payable March 15, 1941.

An extra 10 per cent added to the estate and gift taxes became effective yesterday.

Increased excise taxes, such as those on liquor and cigarettes, will become effective at July 1.

The heaviest of the new tax bills will fall upon income taxpayers. They are expected to pay $319,000,000 in the next fiscal year and $500,000,000 in the following four years in addition to their payments under former income tax rates.

Another series of changes boosts the surtax rates on persons having net income of between $6,000 and $100,000. Under this provision, the surtax (which is in addition to the four per cent "normal" income tax) was increased from five to six per cent on net income of between $6,000 and $8,000. These increases range upward to a boost of from 55 to 56 per cent on net incomes between $90,000 and $100,000.

NEW IMPOST TO INCREASE PRICE OF MONTANA GAS

CALGARY, June 26.—Montana gasoline coming into Alberta is going to be slightly increased in price under the budget impost of 10 per cent on non-Empire petroleum imports. In terms of dollars and cents, however, the total amount will not be very large.

Officials of the Alberta industry said that in April approximately 11,000 barrels of Montana gasoline came in at a price equivalent to 7½ cents, refinery quotation, for the Canadian gallon.

The increase, on that basis, is estimated at somewhat less than $3,000 a month.

Single Men Under 49 Years Will Be Cut From Relief

VICTORIA, June 26.—All able-bodied single men up to 49 years of age will be refused unemployment relief in British Columbia after Aug. 1, Hon. Gerald G. Pearson, minister of labor, said yesterday. He had announced previously a new registration of unemployed would begin in the province on that date.

Few Exemptions Are Made In New 10 Per Cent Tax On Non-Empire Products

OTTAWA, June 26—A bare sprinkling of exceptions are made in the new impost of 10 per cent. on non-empire imports announced in the budget speech of the finance minister, it was learned last night.

Travellers' baggage and settlers' effects would appear to be among the most important items exempted.

COINS ARE EXCEPTED

Any Canadian may import as many British and Canadian coins or foreign gold coins, as he pleases without paying the 10 per cent. Such action, it was said, would tend to bolster rather than act as a detriment to the Canadian exchange position.

Or, if the United States and Canada or residents thereof are going to build a bridge or a tunnel across the border the Canadian government will not charge 10 per cent. on materials for construction of the same when imported, if the United States is willing to allow importation of Canadian materials on the same basis.

Articles for the use of the government-general, and such arms, military stores and munitions of war as are the property of the Imperial government and will remain the property of this government, messages, animals and articles brought in for the purpose of exhibition, clothing and books for charitable purposes and photographs sent by friends (not more than three) are among the number of miscellaneous commodities listed as exempt.

GIFTS ARE EXCEPTED

If, some one aboard wants to make a "casual donation" not advertising matter, not tobacco and not liquor, to any Canadian, he may do so without adding 10 per cent. to the invoice value if the total value of the donation does not exceed $3.

"Bags, barrels, bottles, boxes, cartons, crates, casks, cylinders, drums, tarpaulins and other usual containers or coverings and impact registers or recorders for use in railway cars, upon which duty has once been paid," also are not taxed an extra 10 per cent.

Otherwise, except for items coming under the British preferential tariff, items on the free list as well as those dutiable are taxable.

20,000 Contracts Placed By Dominion For Goods Of War

OTTAWA, June 25—"Today we have placed our 20,000th contract," Munitions Minister C. D. Howe said yesterday.

"From July 14 last up to April 8, the defence purchasing board and the war supply placed 11,169 contracts," he said, "but in the intervening 11 weeks we have increased this total to over 20,000 orders."

Total contracts placed by the department and its two predecessor purchasing bodies, together with all the contracts let on behalf of the British supply board now far exceed the $300,000,000 mark.

Morale and Work Of R.A.F. Better Than Nazi Force

CALGARY, June 26.—The morale and the efficiency of Royal Air Force fighters is infinitely superior to that of the Germans who are "rotten" fighters, Flying Officer Philip Golder of 110 Bomber Squadron, R.A.F., told reporters here yesterday. Badly injured when his plane struck a tree in England seven months ago, Flying Officer Golder is unable to fly as a result and has returned to his home here.

He said that the only time the Germans will fight is when they outnumber the British six to one.

ITALIANS LOSE 50 PLANES IN NORTH AFRICA

Captured Libyans Seek To Join British Army Against Italy

LONDON, June 26.—Announcement was made last night that 50 Italian aircraft have been destroyed in air combat and on the ground in 10 days of warfare in Africa.

Ammunition dumps, gasoline stores and aircraft workshops have been destroyed in Italian East Africa and Libya, an official statement said.

Libyans conscripted into the Italian forces who have fallen into British hands have asked to be allowed to join the British ranks and "fight for the liberation of their country from Italian tyranny."

The statement said that 25 Italian officers and 600 other ranks had been captured, three frontier posts taken on the Libyan front and British armored patrols "penetrated deeply behind the enemy front lines."

In a raid on Tobruk harbor an Italian naval base, the cruiser San Georgio suffered "heavy damage" and other shipping was successfully attacked.

The San Georgio is listed in Jane's Fighting Ships as a coast defence ship—formerly a cruiser—of 9,232 tons, carrying a complement of 726 men. She was built in 1908 and re-constructed in 1937.

Canadian Reported Missing In France

TORONTO, June 26.—Mrs. R. J. Doggett of Toronto said yesterday she had been informed her brother, Pte. George Thompson, Canadian army service corps, was reported missing in France. He previously was reported to be in hospital in France and it now is believed the hospital is in German hands.

EVERY year well over 10,000,000 tourists visit Canada from the United States. They spend some $250,000,000 in the Dominion. ¶ Canada's tourist trade has become one of the most important sources of the country's national income. Under stress of war, American tourist dollars are vital in providing needed exchange. ¶ Canada's Chartered Banks materially assist in promoting this valuable trade. Over 3,000 branch offices provide the tourist with familiar banking services throughout the Dominion—often in the most remote areas. At any of these branches travellers' cheques are cashed, drawings under letters of credit negotiated, money exchanged, tourist information gladly furnished by managers and staff. ¶ By friendly, courteous treatment and efficient service, Canada's Chartered Banks add to the warmth of welcome and encourage the stranger within our gates to return another year.

In war, as in peace, Canada's Chartered Banks maintain, uninterrupted, all their services to depositors, farmers, manufacturers, exporters—facilitating the nation's business—looking forward to peace with freedom as the only sure basis for enduring prosperity.

Heirs to a Great Tradition

Canadians need to hear more just now of the kind of talk Air Marshal Bishop gave to the students at the Royal Military College at Kingston. Germany's temporary victory, he told them, is nothing but a "triumph of treachery". While there are hard times ahead, "I am confident of our ultimate victory". Because "we always have produced and always will produce the best fighting men in the world, and our courage will remain unshaken."

Not boastfully, but in deep gratitude, Canadians should recall the glorious record of what men and women of their blood, British and French, have withstood and accomplished in all parts of the world, often against terrific odds, sometimes in combat against each other. From that record they can draw inspiration for whatever tests they may be fated to endure and for the efforts they will have to make to keep for themselves and others the freedom and the rights their forefathers won.

What the Money is For Getting down to detailed facts, the new taxes which Canadians are being called upon to pay are to provide money with which to recruit, train and equip Canadian soldiers, sailors and airmen. And to give what assistance may be required to support the fighting forces of Britain and our other Allies.

That is the sole and specific purpose of the raising of war funds. Men cannot fight unless they are trained to fight, provided with weapons, clothed, fed, transported and maintained in the fighting areas. Effective prosecution of the war can only be possible if the money for these purposes is forthcoming. Back of those who fight must be those who pay.

The ability of a soldier, a sailor or an airman to take care of himself, to preserve his life and prolong his usefulness, depends in great measure on his personal aptitude, on his training, and on his equipment. The best of Canadian manhood is going into our fighting forces. These men must be trained to the limit, and armed with the best weapons money can buy. Only so can they have an even break with their adversaries, be fitted to protect themselves, and enabled to do the job.

It is to give them this training and equipment that we are to pay the newly imposed war taxes.

War Taxes—Exclusively

It will be noted that the deficit of $118 millions in Dominion accounts at the end of the last fiscal year, March 31st, was approximately the amount that had been spent on the national war effort. That expenditure left out of the calculation, income about equalled outgo.

It is true of course that the $47 millions increase in the year's revenue over the estimates was in part due to expenditure in Canada of war money, British and Canadian. More goods were bought and more taxes paid because this outlay put money in the pockets of consumers.

But on the other hand the war caused a wide dislocation of international trade, closed some markets formerly open to Canadian products, and in that way reacted to counter-balance the increased business resulting from war spending.

The assumption is fair that had there been no war there would have been no deficit, or at most one of only negligible proportions.

The new taxes which have been imposed may therefore be properly regarded as war taxes, exclusively. Imposed because of the war outlay last year and still more because there will have to be a far heavier war outlay this year. The public are entitled to feel that what they pay through these levies will be a direct contribution to the specific object of protecting Canada and the British Empire, stopping international outlawry, and restoring the sovereignty and security of the devastated nations.

Adolf Steals a March

Soviet warplanes soared over Bessarabia on Monday, while Rumanian and Russian troops clashed along the Dneister. Simultaneously Italian forces in Albania moved to the frontier of Yugoslavia, and Moscow said closer relations had been established between the latter country and Russia.

The Soviet planes were no doubt intended to convey to King Carol the reaction of Stalin to the setting-up of a Nazi cabinet in Rumania; and the Italian troop movement to inform Stalin that if there is to be any scrabble for Balkan territory II Duce must be counted among the scrabblers.

The recently announced agreement between Stalin and Mussolini to refrain from further displaying their natural hatred and suspicion of each other was a patched-up affair, negotiated by Herr Hitler for reasons of his own. One of these reasons was disclosed when Carol was compelled to reconstruct his cabinet and put the Iron Guard in control.

It has apparently dawned on the Soviet chief that the Fuehrer has stolen a march on him and taken Rumania into his "orbit" under pretence of maintaining the status quo. It is rather probable that Mussolini likes the Nazi ascendancy in Rumania no more than does Stalin, and sees in it a move to extend the already too-swollen Reich indefinitely into the Balkan area.

There is little chance the gangster trinity will fall out at this juncture, but there are all the makings of a spectacular threeway row in that south-east corner of Europe and Herr Hitler has invited a show-down by his sleight-of-hand stunt in Rumania.

Mr. James East achieved the distinction of serving for seventeen years on Edmonton's city council. A long time resident, and a veteran of the former Great War, he was very widely known in the city and will long be remembered.

The Nazi authorities have closed The Netherlands parliament and suspended the council of state. Which is logical, whatever may be said against it. The parliament and the council, it may be assumed, thought they still had some say in the conduct of their country's affairs.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

Seems that I spoke too soon in regretting that no special day was set apart in honor of father. Father really has two days of remembrance—the day on which he receives his present from the family, and the day at the end of the month when the bill comes to him for his present.

The newspaper columnists are doing their bit in this war. Though they turned thumbs down on me, my young colleague, Max Freedman, is now in training to go overseas. There's something to be said for the voluntary system as against conscription; the men who are in it are there because they want to fight. "Eduardo," who has a daily column in the Panama American has started a novel fund. He is collecting subscriptions and pledges for a fund to be presented to the first Allied aviator who shoots down either Bruno or Vittoria Mussolini, sons of the Italian dictator.

A PRICE ON BRUNO'S HEAD

There'd be poetic justice in downing one of the Mussolini boys. After the Ethiopian affair —it would be a misuse of words to call it a war— Bruno Mussolini wrote an ecstatic article on the joys of shooting from airplanes helpless Ethiopian men, women and children, who had no planes to defend them. Eduardo adds that the death of one of Mussolini's sons would bring home to Il Duce the real import of his action in taking Italy into the war.

An insight into the mentality of men in democratic countries who work for Nazi and Fascist regimes, is afforded by the trial in New York of fourteen men—principally of German origin—charged with stealing government munitions and conspiring to overthrow the U.S. government. Leader of the group is one William Gerald Bishop, an adventurer of questionable origin who hasn't worked since 1937, but who had $289 in his pockets and $1,800 in the bank at the time of his arrest. On relief applications and other documents his birthplace was given as Massachusetts and California, but he has variously sworn to have been born in London and Switzerland.

MR. BISHOP AND HIS MEDALS

Six British and French war medals were found in his possession, all engraved as won by "First Lieutenant William Gerald Bishop, R.L.S.R. (Royal London Scottish Rifles)." They were the British Service Medal, World War; the India Service Medal, the Military Service Medal, the British Military Cross, the Mons Star, and the French Croix de Guerre. The latter added the information that it had been given to Lieutenant Bishop "for bravery in action." He is said to have assured his fellow-defendants that he had served as Captain in the U.S. Army, the British Army the Canadian Expeditionary Force and under Gen. Franco in the Spanish civil war.

Cross-examined at the trial, he confessed that he had bought the medals in pawnshops and had them engraved. He confessed there was no truth to the story of service in the British, Canadian and U.S. Armies, but said he had joined and deserted the Spanish Foreign Legion. Money in his possession he had got from two women who thought he had promise as a writer of fiction.

Any psychologist can see the effect on the weak mind of a down-and-outer at witnessing what a cobbler's son in Russia, a blacksmith's son in Italy and a paperhanger in Austria have accomplished by persuading people of their messianic purpose. Vancouver Sun.

By the time this appears the invasion of Britain may have begun. Aerial invaders will find a different condition than in Norway, Holland, Belgium and France. The tight little island is prepared to give them a hot reception. For many a mile round London there isn't a place where an airplane can land. The green lawns of public and private parks have had great trenches driven through them by American excavating machines. Cricketers at the end of play draw and push waggons onto their pitch. Farmers have their machines and waggons in the fields. Stakes are driven into the ground. All roads are blocked. No place for a plane to land without crashing.

IS PREPARED FOR RAIDERS

Every signpost has been removed and every roadmap surrendered by motorists, who must remove distributor caps, rocker arms and other vital ignition parts before leaving their cars for the night.

Behind sandbags, sharpshooters lie in the fields at night waiting for parachutists. Roofs of big houses have been camouflaged with trees. Every landmark that peace-time German pilots may remember has been altered by disguise.

This is the great task Britain has accepted—to free Europe, as she did over a century ago from another dictator who had most of continental Europe under his feet.

Religion Day By Day

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

NO TIP FROM A FRIEND

Travelling westward on a sleeping car, a passenger said to the porter, "My friend, what time do we reach Chicago?" The Negro replied, and promised to arouse the man in good time.

On the next morning, as the passenger left the car he offered the porter a tip, who refused it, saying, "No, sir; you called me 'friend,' and I can't take a tip from a friend."

There are two or three lessons for life hidden in this unusual incident, but the outstanding one is that human beings want friendship more than they want money. We are all wrong when we think of life as wholly on a cash basis. Men will do for friendship, or for any of the other great loyalties, what they will not do for silver and gold. Neighborliness, for example, may never be established on a financial basis.

When Christ was first preached, the Church was most powerful. It was when he said, "Silver and gold have I none, but such as I have give I to thee," that Peter healed the paralytic. Give friendship, and the hearts of recipient and of bestower will be made rich.

In the name of the self-spending Christ, who, though He was poor, yet lavished rich love upon the world, we pray today for the spirit that shares itself in friendliness. Amen.

Read Acts 2:1-19.

Premier Godbout of Quebec in a radio address vehemently condemned Hitler and all his works, and urged that the resources of Quebec be used to the utmost in support of the Allies.

"French-Canadians and English-Canadiens," he said, "have rallied under one banner, have gone to the aid of their two mother countries, in whom the ideal and the reality of civilization shine in an equal and splendid light."

Cardinal Villeneuve, also, a few days ago urged general support for the war to overthrow the Nazi power.

Quebec is united as it never was in the last war, and that means a fully united country, which will make a mightier war effort than it could otherwise do.—Winnipeg Free Press.

The Fight's Only Started

If Hitler has any idea that he can break up the British Empire he ought to feel the electric thrill that went through Canada at the sweeping mobilisation program announced by Prime Minister King. There was a unanimous wave of applause that at last we are in this war with everything we've got. At last we have recognized that this war is for Canada's defense as well as for Britain's.

It is now the law of Canada that every man up to the age of 45 is subject to call for home defense service; that every person must register, giving required particulars about himself or herself; that both the person and the property are on call. The voluntary system for overseas service still remains.

Australia and New Zealand are similarly organizing, while South Africa has long been prepared for service right in Africa, where it can best serve itself and the Empire.

The British Empire is forming an army of 3,500,000 men which it will arm and equip on a scale never before seen. For airplanes, guns, tanks, was machines of all sorts, the lid is off. All the vast industrial plant of Britain and the dominions, plus that of United States, is going into high gear. Canada herself will become a vast arsenal, industrial to a peak. This country will have an overseas and home army in the hundreds of thousands. It already has its troops in Iceland, Newfoundland, West Indies and England. Its warships are in British waters and its planes and fliers are in the British skies.

Such is the background for Mr. King's announcement. At the same moment, almost, President Roosevelt put universal service legislation for United States. He also works day and night on his colossal scheme for the 22 American nations—including Canada so far as this country desires to go in it—for pooling of the economic resources of the Americas.

Canada thus takes her place in the double role, as a key nation of the Commonwealth and as a northern anchor for the great mutual defense of the Western Hemisphere. To play that role she must be armed to the teeth, organized militarily and economically.

Almost overnight Canada has brushed aside the old easy ways and turned into a fighting machine, at the King's Empire Day command: "Go forward as one man." In those five words lie the key to victory, for one co-ordinate this nation and this Empire and no one can defeat them.

Hitler plans some grim things for the British people, but he will find that the war is only started.—Vancouver Sun.

On This Date

By FRED WILLIAMS

Perhaps when the world recovers from its present chaos, the Canadian people may get into the habit of observing the birthday anniversaries of their great men, as our American friends remember Washington and Lincoln each year. Already, and for some years past, there have been people who have remembered that January 6 is the anniversary of the birth of Sir John A. Macdonald in 1815 and that November 20 is the anniversary of the birth of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in 1841; and, even though it be mid-winter, lay wreaths on the monuments at Ottawa. And as the greatness of the service of Sir Robert Laird Borden grows in public appreciation with the passage of years, it may be that on June 26 Ottawa people will pay tribute to the great Nova Scotian, born on this date in 1854.

It may interest the younger generation to know that Sir Robert came of good British stock on both sides. His father's family came originally from Headcorn, a hamlet on the verge of the Weald of Kent, where the Henry Bordens made his appearance about 1370. In course of time one of the family moved to New England and then, because of Loyalist sympathies others to Nova Scotia. His mother's family also came to Canada via New England. Her grandfather, Robin Laird, came from Scotland, by way of Ireland, and, having quarrelled with his father, who wanted to apprentice him to a dyer, ran away to America. It is family tradition that while living in New England he heard of Nova Scotia and left to chance the question of migrating to that colony. Holding his staff upright he let it fall and as it fell in the direction of Nova Scotia he determined to follow its guidance.

That Robert Laird Borden was born of good stock in one of the most lovely sections of Canada, at Grand Pre. When he was four years old his father moved his family into a new home, which still stands, and which was donated by Sir Robert to be a family museum. An interesting fact about Sir Robert's early life is that although his father was an Anglican, his mother was a Presbyterian, and, the latter church being nearer, Robert went to both, so that he grew up instilled with the doctrines of both catechisms, a fact which served him well in oratory in his later years.

It is in these days of intellectual confusion and anarchy that we can more fully appreciate the value and efficacy of the intellectual discipline which will enable us to seek the truth, the truth that will make us free.—Hu Shih, Chinese ambassador to the U.S.

This government must necessarily insist that European possessions in the western hemisphere shall not become the subject of barter or conquest between rival European powers.—Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Side Glances — By Galbraith

McCoy Health Service

Pyelitis, which is commonly called "pus in the kidney" by the layman, is an inflammation of the pelvis and parenchyma of the kidney. It may occur in an acute form, a chronic form, or in a chronic form marked by acute flare-ups.

It is marked by the presence of pus and organisms in the urine, the organism most frequently found being the colon bacillus. This organism apparently makes its way from the colon to the kidney by travelling along the route of the blood stream.

The symptoms of pyelitis include pain in the region of the kidney, or in the regions of both kidneys if both are involved, fever, and various bladder symptoms such as burning, urgency, frequency, etc.

In health, the kidney is apparently able to resist infection to quite an extent as long as there is free drainage, and it is likely that the healthy kidney can take into itself and throw out some kinds of bacteria without being harmed.

Evidently before pyelitis is capable of developing, something must happen which reduces the resistance of the kidney. Seemingly, kidney resistance may be lowered by such circumstances as would lower general resistance, including poor food, debility from overwork, anemia, and the presence of focal infections of the teeth, tonsils, sinuses, and so on. Also, anything which interferes with free drainage of fluid from the urinary system, may be producing stagnation, be favorable to kidney infection.

In an acute pyelitis, the patient has chills, then develops a fever which may be as high as 105 degrees F., and develops sweating. The bladder is inflamed and the urine is cloudy. There may be poor appetite, nausea and vomiting. As a general rule, most patients make a complete recovery from pyelitis, the acute case probably running from one to two weeks. The patient may be very weak for some time afterward.

Rest in bed, the giving of plenty of citrus fruit juices, having the patient drink plenty of water, and using the enema, are usually indicated in the acute attack. The safest plan is to keep the patient under the supervision of a doctor, during the acute attack.

Chronic pyelitis may result from an acute selage, or it may develop almost secretly, producing its symptoms for some time. Eventually, such symptoms as the following often develop: Frequent urination, a burning sensation, and urgent need of emptying the bladder several times during the night. Chronic pyelitis may be discovered during a routine health examination by the discovery of pus cells during the urinalysis. The urinalysis may show many pus cells, either clumped or occuring singly, the presence of blood cells and albumin. There is usually inflammation of the bladder.

As chronic pyelitis does not lend itself speadily to home treatment, the patient should consult his physician.

The general article on "pyelitis" has been sent to any reader having a special interest in the subject. You may obtain the article by writing to Dr. McCoy in care of this paper, enclosing a large, self-addressed, envelope and five cents in stamps.

McKenney On Bridge

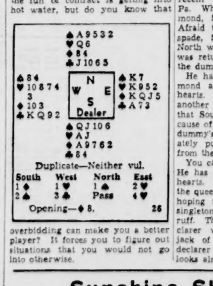

By WM. E. McKENNEY, America's Card Authority

Today's hand was played at the recent tournament at Allentown, Pa. When North opened the diamond, South won with the ace. Afraid that West might discard a spade, South led one back and North won with the ace. A spade was returned, and declarer was in the dummy with the king.

He had lost a spade and a diamond and must lose the ace of hearts. How could he avoid losing another trick? He felt confident that South held the queen, because of his bid, so declarer cashed dummy's ace of clubs, then deliberately led a small heart away from the king.

You can see South's predicament. He has the choice of hearts. Believing that West holds the queen, he goes up with the ace, hoping that South can win his singleton club and give him a club ruff. That was just what the declarer wanted. The queen and jack of hearts fell together and declarer made four hearts, which looks almost impossible.

Certainly we overbid. Much of the fun of contract is getting into hot water, but do you know that overbidding can make you a better player? It forces you to figure out situations that you would not go into otherwise.

Representatives of more than 25 Vegreville organizations met Monday to organize for the promotion of sales of war saving certificates. The meeting was called by Neil Primrose, who has been appointed chairman of the Vegreville group by H. R. Milner, K.C., of Edmonton, who is in charge of the Edmonton division of the promotion work.

A corps of speakers who will tour the district in the interest of promoting local promotion organizations has been appointed. The speakers are: H. S. Hurlburt, F. W. Laing, J. Decore, Peter Svarich, Dr. J. Yakimischak, Mrs. E. Zaribeda, L. B. Yule and J. B. Holden.

Rev. Dr. G. D. Armstrong, A. L. Horion, M. W. Bond and Mrs. C. G. Strong were appointed as publicity committee and Mrs. W. Fraser, G. Gudbunson, C. B. McLure, C. T. Third and M. C. Watts are in charge of stamp outlets. Sale of stamps in schools was left in the hands of Public School Inspector L. B. Yule, and the organizing of women's organizations is in charge of Mrs. Aug. Couillard.

A further meeting will be held July 15, when reports of the committees will be heard.

FORT ST. JOHN

Constable R. Sandy and family left June 23 by plane for Vancouver. Const. Sandy has been transferred to Courtney, Vancouver Island. Constable Clay, of Pouce Coupe, is to take up his duties at Fort St. John on July 2.

A severe electrical storm was experienced north of the Peace River recently. Several telephone poles five miles from Fort St. John were struck and shattered.

WETASKIWIN

A meeting was held in the Council Chamber Monday evening when an organization was formed to boost the sale of War Saving Certificates. H. J. Montgomery was elected president and C. B. McMurdo, secretary. The committee is W. H. Odell, chairman, with H. Sutherland and C. H. Russell.

INNISFAIL

At a social gathering held last Sunday after the evening service Rev. and Mrs. Pike were the recipients of a little presentation from the Innisfail, Big Bend and Westholme appointments. After five years pastoral charge here, Rev. Pike and family will move next week to their new charge at Munson.

SYLVAN LAKE

The Brownies, of Innisfail, 22 in number, are camping at the cottage that Mrs. Jas. Lee has rented at the town. Mrs. C. J. Green is their leader, assisted by Miss Barbara Burnett. Mrs. J. C. McDougall, of Innisfail, is also with the party.

CALMAR

Pte. Crook and Pte. Currie, S. A. R., were home on leave last week.

Comedian Mourned

Movie Comedian Charley Chase, 47, is mourned by thousands of film fans everywhere who delighted at his zany antics on the screen for many years. Chase died of a heart attack at his Hollywood home.

WILDWOOD

A very enjoyable time was had yesterday when the Holly patrol and Fuchsia patrol of Wildwood Girl Guides hiked three miles west of Wildwood to the Community beach number two on Chip lake. Holly patrol were the hosts under Patrol Leader Maria Angela Aubert.

The last of a series of baseball games between Evansburg and Wildwood high school teams was played at Evansburg and Wildwood won again, 16-2.

A total of $83.31 was forwarded to the minister of defence, Ottawa, for war purposes by the treasurer, Mr. Charles Culkia, of the Wildwood Agricultural and Horticultural Society.

PERRYVALE

The trustees of Lewiston S. D. attended the annual meeting of Division 1 of the Athabasca School Division No. 42 held at Meanook last week, when matters pertaining to the working of the system, which has ended its first year of operation, were discussed. The method of placement and exchange of teachers was considered satisfactory.

BAWLF

Douglas C. Gillespie, highly respected pioneer farmer, passed quietly away Saturday at Providence hospital, Dayaland, after a long illness.

Mr. Gillespie homesteaded between Bawlf and Dayaland, but spent the last few years in Dayaland, where he purchased a home. His wife and one son, Duncan, predeceased him a few months ago.

He leaves four daughters, Irene, Jeanne, Allie and Ila; three sons, William of Bittern Lake, Lorne of Dayaland, and Douglas of Ontario; besides grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted from the United church, Dayaland, on Monday. Interment took place in the Dayaland cemetery.

The Junior Red Cross, with 29 members ranging in age from six to 11 years, recently turned in to Mrs. Fred C. Stanley, president of the Bawlf branch of the women's work committee, 10 scarves, six pairs wristlets and 35 handkerchiefs.

The committee report an excellent quality of work from this enthusiastic group who range from first to the fifth grades in the Bawlf schools. Helen Matzen is president, and Lois Jensen is secretary.

Kenneth Hanson, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Hanson, returned from Vancouver, B.C., where he graduated recently from the deaf and dumb school. He plans to return this fall to take post-graduate work.

MORRIN

Funeral services for the late Mr. John See were held in the Rowley church on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. See's death was caused from a heart attack. He died on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. See and family came to this district from Missouri nearly 25 years ago and took a homestead northeast of Morrin. Mrs. See predeceased her husband nearly 18 years ago.

The deceased is survived by four sons: Gail of Morrin, Lawrence living north of Edmonton, and Mervin and George of Drumheller, and three daughters, Mrs. V. Wattenbarger of Morrin, Mrs. A. Black and Mrs. Yopek of Drumheller.

WAINWRIGHT

A successful field day and plowing match was held at the Farm home of George Reid east of Wainwright recently. The meet was sponsored by the Wainwright Improvement Association.

Tractor gangs—E. Smith, G. Valleau and J. Perkins; horse gangs—N. L. Cooper, W. Hutchflower and M. McLarty; ladies contest—Mrs. Perkins and Mrs. E. Smith.

McLENNAN

Dr. Leo Geroux of Edmonton visited his brother P. A. Geroux here for a few days.

Miss May Hounder motored back to Edmonton this week, where she will begin her second year of training in the Misericordia hospital.

A baby boy was born recently to Mr. and Mrs. G. Rose. Both mother and child are doing well.

PIBROCH

Members of the Pibroch W.I. motored to Picardville on Monday to attend the annual district conference of women's institutes at that place.

The following were among those making the trip: Mrs. G. Herod, Mrs. W. Stobie, Mrs. T. Gower, Mrs. W. Scaly, Mrs. A. Peacock, Mrs. P. Baxandall, Mrs. F. Kalmback, Mrs. F. Eakin, Mrs. C. Ennis, Mrs. H. Dalby.

WINFIELD

Truck drivers hauling lumber have speeded up operations and most of the trucks are now hauling four loads of lumber a day instead of two. The trucks are running day and night as only when operations are needed or the roads become impassible following a rain.

LOUGHEED

Dan McDonald was rushed to St. Anne's hospital in Hardisty suffering from severe cuts and bruises obtained when he fell from a disc in the field.

Malcolm MacDonnell has left for the east to take further training in the R.C.A.F.

GLENDON

On Saturday, June 22nd, the Glendon "Happy Gang" Girls' Club played the Glendon Women's Institute a game of softball winning by a score of 23 runs to 6.

THORSBY

Mr. Morton, of High Prairie, is visiting at his daughter's, Mrs. Engstrom. Mr. Morton lived in this district some 52 years ago.

Ominous Quiet Along Southeastern Coast As Britons Await Nazi Move

By FRED BACKHOUSE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

SOMEWHERE ON ENGLAND'S SOUTHEAST COAST, June 26.—For weeks the usually placid life of this usually placid part of England was disturbed almost every day by the deep rumble of gunfire on France's wide battlefront. Now there is an ominous quiet.

Since Saxon days the garden villages that dot the southeast coast have nestled in the fold of rolling downs. Here Kipling wrote his Sussex poem. The history of Norman, Plantagenet and Victorian is enshrined in more than one parish church.

Fat ducks still waddle across the village greens but lush meadows, scarred deep with furrows meant to upset any Nazi plane that might attempt a landing, are a reminder of the war. Signposts and mile-stones have been defaced to make lanes anonymous to any parachute invasion.

Uniformed parashou, very conscious of their guns, patrol roads from dawn to dusk. Another motoring patrol I encountered a retired major wearing the ribbons of a D.S.O. won in the last war, assisting by the side of the local butcher's strong young son.

Along every section of this home-front I visited there was the same state of preparedness. In one resort, an old cafe that served vacationists dainty teas for one shilling and sixpence has become a sandbagged strong point for machine guns. A battered telescope—the penny-a-peep variety—has given way to something of the same shape but much more effective.

As to the morale of these solid yeomen of the coast, a recent event would have left the vociferous "Haw Haw" without a voice. Those who could snatch a few hours away from their war work went to a village-hall for a lecture on, of all things, birdwatching!

IS NO ISOLATION

"There is no such thing as our isolation from wars which envelop two-thirds of all the people in the world. The Monroe Doctrine alone is the negation of that. There is no such thing as economic isolation. Those shoals run through the doors of our farmers and our workers every hour. There is no such thing as moral isolation. These violations of treaties and agreements raise dangers to the reign of law everywhere. There is no such thing as intellectual and spiritual isolation. Emotions come through the air in every telegraphed and printed word."

Hoover said "Nazi-ism and our New Deal both rose to power in 1933' and since then Republicans in congress supported repeated increases in defence appropriations until they reached 1,400 million a year."

In "these six years," he continued, "the new deal has spent 6.2 millions" yet "after all that expenditure we are told we are wholly unprepared to defend ourselves."

Hoover said the Republicans would "welcome" President Roosevelt as a third term candidate.

"SEVEN STERN TASKS"

The "seven stern tasks" which he said must be undertaken if the United States is to be prepared were these:

"First. We must restore and revitalize liberty in America.

"Second. We must restore and rebuild morals in government.

"Third. We must restore decent life and living to one-third of our farmers and workers, who have been chronically subnormal by the new deal.

"Fourth. We must restore competence to government.

"Fifth. We must prepare this nation to defend the western hemisphere.

"Sixth. We must develop and maintain foreign policies that keep us out of these wars unless we are attacked. We should facilitate all nations fighting for freedom in procuring materials and munitions, but subject to definite limitations which keep us out of war.

"Seventh. We must recall our people from the flabbiness of the new deal. We must re-establish stamina, character and ideals. We must regenerate hope and confidence in America."

G.O.P. URGED GIVE BATTLE TO NEW DEAL

Hoover Asks Republicans To "Save America For Free Men"

PHILADELPHIA, June 26—Herbert Hoover, urging the Republican party to fight to the utmost to "save America for free men," charged last night that the "new deal" was taking the United states down the same "suicide road" that led to loss of liberty and "disaster" in Europe.

"We should facilitate all nations fighting for their freedom in procuring materials and munitions," he declared, "but subject to definite limitations which keep us out of war."

Speaking of the present war, he said:

"The immense task now is to shape our foreign policies to protect us from the conflagration in Europe and Asia.

JAPS PROTEST OVER BRITISH 'INTERFERENCE'

HONG KONG, June 26—Japanese military authorities have protested against British "interference" with movements of Japanese troops in south China, according to a Domei dispatch from Shanghai, on the railway connecting Hong Kong with Canton.

The dispatch of the Japanese news agency caused mystification here, since it was not clear how British troops in the Hong Kong territory could be impeding the movements of Japanese in Chinese territory across the border from this British crown colony. Some British soldiers were moved to the frontier recently, but merely as a precaution against possible unintentional violation of the indistinctly marked boundary, officials indicated.

The Domei dispatch, arriving on the heels of news that Japanese warships were speeding toward Haiphong in French Indo-China, said Japanese military authorities had filed a strong protest against manoeuvres held by the British near the border Sunday, "causing much difficulty for the Japanese operations."

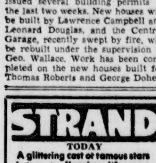

Parliament Not To Sit Dominion Day

OTTAWA, June 26—Parliament will not sit on Monday, July 1 as many members are eager to get to their constituencies on Dominion Day, Justice Minister Ernest Lapointe said yesterday.

Egypt's Officials Quit Rome Tuesday

Miss Klapstein Is Married Recently

Of especial interest to friends on the South Side is the pretty wedding ceremony solemnized in the Moravian church recently when Edith A. Klapp ein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Klapstein, of 11th city, became the bride of Edwin Henkelman, son of M and Mrs. I. Henkelman, also of this centon.

For the occasion the altar was banked with pots and baskets of white and blue larkspur, Mrs. Wedman officiated at the ceremony and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Heise.

Period gown of white satin, with the graceful waist line skirt falling in train was chosen by the bride for her wedding. She wore a veil of softest tulle, in a fashion, in her hair, and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses.

BRIDESMAID

Only attendant to the bride, Miss Evelyn Adams, was frocked in an old-fashioned gown of pastest pink sheer. She wore a Queen Anne bonnet to match her frock and other accessories in white. Her bouquet was of deep pink carnations.

Mr. Wilbert Henkelman supported his brother as best man.

Thirty guests were entertained at an attractive reception arranged following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. For the occasion Mrs. Klapstein was smart in a black sheer gown with white picture hat and accessories and corsage of talisman roses.

Mrs. Henkelman chose a becoming gown in old time figured crepe with picture hat to match and Ophelia rose corsage.

Laid in white lace, the bride's table was centred with a tiered wedding cake, embedded in tulle and flanked on either side by tall pink tapers. Summer flowers also decorated the table.

U.S. HONEYMOON

Mr. and Mrs. Henkelman have left on a three-week honeymoon to the United States, and on their return will take up residence in the city. To travel the bride wore a smart black tailored suit with accessories in white.

Red Cross Receives Two Blankets From St. George Group

Funds to purchase two blankets for the Red Cross society were raised at a whist and bridge party at which the Royal society of St. George entertained members and their friends in the Eastwood community hall recently.

Honors at cards went to Mrs. A. Langdon, Mrs. C. Ward, Mrs. D. Jones and Mrs. A. Williams.

Committee in charge of arrangements were Mrs. Neild and Mrs. F. J. White.

Miss Barbara Joan Nye Is Bride Of Mr. F. H. Mills At Ceremony On Tuesday

ALL SAINTS' CATHEDRAL at the evening hour of half after eight o'clock on Tuesday was the scene of a lovely summer ceremony of widespread interest among Edmonton friends and friends in Grand Rapids, Michigan, when Miss Barbara Joan Nye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Nye of this city, pledged marriage vows with Mr. Frederick H. Mills, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, son of Mrs. Harry A. Mills and the late Mr. Mills also of Grand Rapids. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon A. M. Trendall.

Interest of a host of personal and family friends in social circles in the city is coupled with that of friends in professional circles, for the bride, a graduate of the Edmonton Normal school, has taught in the city for several years.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the Ferris Institute of Pharmacy, Big Rapids, Michigan. He and his bride will take up residence shortly in Grand Rapids.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was a lovely figure in her formal wedding gown of white crepe back lustre satin, fashioned with inserts of lace in the yoke, long tapering sleeves coming to a point over the hands and slender skirt that finished in a long train at the back. Tiny satin covered buttons were sewn from the throat to the waist at the back. Her veil of filmy white Parisian net, caught closely to the back of the head with Johanna Hill rosebuds, fell gracefully about her shoulders, and her accessories were white. She carried in her arms a cascade bouquet of Johanna Hill roses tied with white satin ribbons. Her only ornament was a cross and chain of gold, an olden family heirloom.

ATTENDANTS

Her only sister, Mrs. John Alexander Cawston, the former Miss Marjorie Lorraine Nye, was matron of honor and was frocked for the occasion in a dainty gown of pink rosebud taffeta, modelled on colonial lines. Bodice of the frock was slender fitting and the skirt was very full, caught up at the side front with bows of self material, revealing several rows of white Valenciennce lace. Her hat was a smart hand-made model of pink straw, trimmed with pink rosebuds and tied with blue satin ribbons.

The bridegroom was supported by Mr. John Alexander Cawston, brother-in-law of the bride.

For the occasion of the marriage, the cathedral was decorated with ferns and palms, and snapdragons tied with white ribbons marked the pews. Music for the ceremony was provided by Mr. Herbert Wild, organist, and Mrs. Herbert Till, soloist, who sang the signing of the register sang, "Oh Perfect Love."

Mr. William Nixon and Mr. Irvin Bond were ushers.

HOTEL RECEPTION

Reception to sixty guests was arranged in the breakfast room and garden of the Macdonald hotel following the ceremony. Receiving, Mrs. Nye was smart in a gown of black silk lace, fashioned, smart hat of black Baku straw trimmed with crimson roses and waist corsage of crimson roses. Her big gold gloves were white.

Laid with a cloth of French lace and graced with a silver bowl of pink roses and tall pink tapers in silver holders, the bride's table was centred by the tiered wedding cake resting on a polished mirror surface. Toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Herbert Jones.

Servitors were Miss Ruth Evelyn Williamson and Miss Margaret Grierson and Miss Maidie Smith.

TO U.S. A.

PLEDGE MARRIAGE VOWS ON TUESDAY

Pictured here just following their wedding in All Saints' Cathedral on Tuesday evening are Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Mills. The bride is the former Miss Barbara Joan Nye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Nye of Edmonton, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Harry A. Mills and the late Mr. Mills of Grand Rapids, Michigan. After a wedding trip to Jasper, Banff and Yellowstone national parks, Mr. and Mrs. Mills will make their home in Grand Rapids.

Reports Heard At Sessions On Wednesday

Wednesday morning sessions of the one-day convention of the women's committee of the Union of Baptist churches of Western Canada were featured by reports of various committee conveners. The convention is being held in First Baptist church, with Mrs. C. M. Staines of Vancouver presiding.

Canadian Nurses Petition To Have Representation In Militia Department Body

CALGARY, June 26 — Appointment of a matron-in-chief to head the nursing services in the permanent personnel of the militia department, was urged Tuesday by Miss Grace M. Fairley, Vancouver, Dominion national president of the Canadian Nurses' Association, in the president's address at the opening session of the twentieth general meeting. Miss Fairley said: "We have all regretted the delay in appointing a matron-in-chief, as we feel the entire profession will have greater confidence in army nursing policies are in the hands of a member of the profession.

"At the opening outset of the war your executive urged such appointment, but as you know, medical units have not been sent overseas in any great numbers so far, and that may have been the reason for delay of this appointment.

"With regard to other aspects of the nursing profession, Miss Fairley said that her visits to at least three provincial meetings had assured her that the nurses were trying to undertake the problems of their profession in a practical way.

OF THE FUTURE

"What of the future?" Miss Fairley asked. "The months that lie ahead will make great demands of us all whether our duties lie at home or overseas. I know that the fact we are members of the Canadian Nurses' Association—that we are Canadian nurses—will mean that we will give our best to the Dominion and the Empire."

Miss Fairley paid tribute from all parts of the Dominion, from Nova Scotia to British Columbia, heard the opening address. Many more have now registered.

Greatest obstacle to instituting reasonable hours in the nursing profession is the tendency of general-duty nurses to make sacrifices, Miss Bea Eaton of Vancouver told 350 nurses at the Canadian Nurses' Association convention Tuesday evening. Miss Eaton is chairman of the industrial relations committee of British Columbia and has worked on committees surveying hours and conditions of nurses.

"I know that the nature of your work is such that you cannot quit on the minute, but if the hours of the eight-hour day were carried over two weeks, 96 hours for two weeks, the objection to emergencies could be met," Mrs. Eaton said.

THREE AWARDS

Three Agnes Mary Snively awards, the highest honor the Canadian Nurses' Association can bestow, were presented by Miss Grace M. Fairley, superintendent of nurses of Vancouver General hospital and Dominion president of the association.

The three medals were for Kathleen Russell, Toronto, Rev. Mother Allard of the Hotel Dieu St. Joseph, Montreal, and Ethel M. Johns, Montreal. Miss Johns was the only one present to receive the award in person.

Edmonton Visitor Has Devoted Efforts To Interpreting The Ukrainian Folk For Canadians

SYMPATHETIC understanding of and assistance to the Ukrainian-Canadians who, with their population of half a million, make the third largest Canadian entity, has been the "end and means" of a tremendous work done by Mrs. Florence Randal Livesay, of Clarkson, Ontario, who visited briefly in the city Tuesday. On Tuesday evening she was the guest speaker at a meeting arranged in the St. John's Ukrainian church parish hall, under auspices of the provincial executive of the Ukrainian Women's Association and the Ladies' Aid of St. John church.

One of Canada's leading newspaper women, and formerly women's editor of the Canadian Press for 15 years, Mrs. Livesay belies her appearance that of a story-book fairy god-mother. Rather, Mrs. Livesay, who is petite, white-haired and with a deep grasp of understanding in her frank blue eyes, has to her credit many years of valuable work in fields more unusual than fairyland.

MISCONCEPTION

While chatting with a Bulletin reporter on Tuesday, Mrs. Livesay said: "Many Canadians have a misconception of the Ukrainian people. Because their lands have been absorbed by the Soviet Union, many people are under the misapprehension that they have communistic tendencies. They are not Russian, nor are they Communists," she said. "Making the third largest Canadian entity, after the English and the French, they are the most loyal Canadians aware of what Canada has done for them and eager to participate in the building of a great Canadian people and culture."

Mrs. Livesay is the wife of J. F. P. Livesay, formerly general manager of the Canadian Press, and mother of Mrs. Duncan Macnair, nee Dorothy Livesay, a leading Canadian poet who makes her home in Vancouver.

She is also the author of several books, including "Shepherd's Pure," a volume of verse, and "Sasha," a novel, a humorous sketch of the Irish in Canada. She was formerly society editor of the Winnipeg Free Press and the Ottawa Journal and for 15 years was women's editor of the Canadian Press. As free-lance writer and teacher, she spent a year in South Africa, where she instructed Boer children in a camp there.

KEENLY INTERESTED

Keenly interested in the Ukrainian folk-art ever since the day when, in Winnipeg, a young Ukrainian girl heard her playing an old-time Irish song on the piano and said, "all same Gallish". Mrs. Livesay has made a study of the Gallician culture and its effect and impression upon the Canadian national life.

Shortly after the incident, in Winnipeg, Mrs. Livesay wrote her own right words to the air, "Songs of Ukraina", a melodic interpretation of the Gallician songs taught her by the young visitor in subsequent meetings.

Later, she met the Ukrainian folklore author, Dr. Hnatyshyn, of Saskatoon, and Theodore Humeniuk of Toronto, who helped her to go deeper into study of their people, their culture and their folklore. Her second book "Mazusia," recently published by E. P. Dutton and Co. of New York, with an introduction by the late Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada, is the interpretation of a tale of peasant life by Hrihory Kvitka.

"Mazusia", a Ukrainian classic, is to that race what "Anne of Green Gables" is to the French Canadians. A Canadian edition of the book will shortly be published by the Ryerson Press in Toronto. Review of it included one by a Ukrainian paper, stating that the English translation was preferred by many of their people to the original, written in the century-old language of the race.

Mrs. Livesay has continued her interest in the people, doing her utmost to further understanding and exchange of viewpoints, helping their culture to and blending it with the Canadian one.

SUPPER PARTY

While in Edmonton, she was the guest of honor at a supper party arranged in the Corona hotel on Tuesday evening. In charge of arrangements for the meeting were Mrs. J. Verchomin, Mrs. Saik, Mrs. D. Yanda, Mrs. C. Lazarovitch, and Mrs. B. Procyshyn.

Mrs. Livesay left on Wednesday morning for Winnipeg, en route to her home at Clarkson, Ont.—F.G.M.

Tuesday Bride To Make New Home In B.C.

SACRED HEART CHURCH was the scene of an interesting summer wedding at the hour of nine o'clock on Tuesday evening when Ruth Theresa, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Damberger of this city exchanged marriage vows with Mr. Robert Louis Harrop of Fort St. James, B.C., son of Mr. Fred Harrop and the late Mrs. Harrop of Birks' Falls, Ontario. The bride and bridegroom will make their home in Fort St. James.

Rt. Rev. Michael J. O'Gorman, rector of the church performed the marriage ceremony.

Attired in a graceful gown of snowy white lace and net, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Bodice of the frock was made tight-fitting and was of lace fashioned with squared neckline and dainty puffed sleeves, and the skirt of double net was made very full. The bride wore a circlet of orange blossoms in her hair and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. White accessories completed her ensemble.

MATRON OF HONOR

Mrs. F. Damberger, sister-in-law of the bride, who was matron of honor wore a becoming gown of orchid net. Her frock was a jacket model and white accessories completed her costume. She wore summer flowers in her hair and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Peach taffeta fashioned the quaintly old-fashioned frock that Miss Betty Dewar wore as flower girl. Skirt of the frock was made with tiny frills and was fashioned floor length, and she wore a ribbon to match in her hair. She carried a basket of summer flowers.

Mr. F. Damberger, brother of the bride, was bestman.

Princess Juliana Mekes Appearance As Dress Shopper

OTTAWA, June 26.—First public appearance of Princess Juliana of the Netherlands since her arrival at Government House late yesterday came today in the form of a casual shopping tour. Smartly attired in a grey two-piece suit with white accessories and accompanied by her lady-in-waiting, the Princess strolled into a downtown store, where a white seersucker evening gown with flame-colored accessories caught her eye. Her attendant chose a dubonnet and white cotton frock, and the two shoppers strolled out again, leaving a excited and surprised group of clerks, who had not at first recognized royalty.

Dancing was arranged during the evening.

On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Harrop will leave for their new home at Fort St. James, B.C. To travel the bride wore a smart sports suit in blue with turban and accessories to match.

Sonnysayings

When fellers comes along and sees me hangin' out dolly's panties I IS THROUGH! You kin eat yer tea party by yer lonesome self.

Dorothy Dix Says:

One of the women who has always been held up to scorn is the Managing Mother who schemes and plans to get her daughters well married. This criticism of a woman who is simply doing her manifest duty has always seemed to me most unjust. For, believing as we do that marriage is the career for which nature destined women, shouldn't a mother make every effort to help her girls get good husbands? We all know that for a girl to be popular and have good times and plenty of boy friends and eventually to marry Mr. Right depends just as much upon her mother as it does upon her own attractions.

A girl may be Miss Canada and still have to spend her evenings alone with Mamma and Papa reading an improving book, if she has a mother who puts the "Keep Out" sign on the doormat and gives every boy who comes to the house such a frosty welcome that he never returns.

But far otherwise is the situation if mother is on her job. Mable may not be an eyeful. There may not be the slightest danger of her ever setting anything on fire with her brilliance.

But from the time she was a small girl, mother has made her home a rendezvous for the boys and girls with whom she wanted Mable to go. It was always jolly and lively at Mable's house.

And Mable's mother made everybody feel welcome, and fed 'em, and when SHE came into the room she came with a cake or sandwiches in her hand.

The Managing Mother does a lot of protective work, too. She doesn't invite some handsome, fascinating, ne'er-do-well relative to come and stay at her house and go to college, or while he is looking around for the job he never finds.

She doesn't wait to break up her daughter's marriage to a drunkard after the girl is so much in love that she is deaf to reason and blind to consequences. She attempt to keep it from happening.

She just simply liquidates the derelicts so neatly that the girls never even know why the married man who made love so beautifully, or the good-looking youth who was letting his mother support him, disappeared so suddenly.

The Managing Mother doesn't try to force her daughter to marry some man merely because he is rich or prominent.

She merely wants to give the girl a chance to marry a good man he will make her a good husband, and to keep her from wrecking her life by marrying some good-for-nothing weakling who will bring down certain misery upon her.

So all honor to the Managing Mother. May her tribe increase. For if it isn't a mother's duty to try to safeguard her daughter's marriages, what is?

Play Better Golf With These Helpful Pointers

New Booklet Shows Right Form

To join the golfing crowd you've got to hold up your end. But if you've never had the proper instruction golf may seem much harder than it is.

Good golf doesn't require lots of muscle and stamina but simply that you hit the ball the most efficient way. As in delivering any kind of blow balance is vital.

Always start your swing from a balanced position. Distribute your weight evenly on both feet. Bend forward from the waist and very slightly from the knees, so that your legs are almost straight but free from strain or tenseness.

A line drawn between the two feet and another from the clubhead to this first line should form the letter T, as the diagram shows. If your position is correct you should be able to hold the club lightly without tiring.

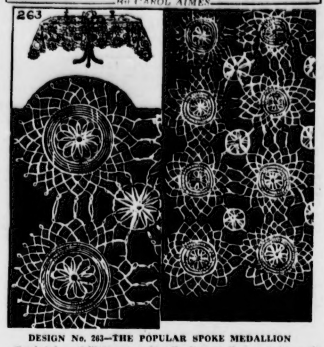

To understand other phases of the swing, see our 2-page booklet by the noted golf teacher, Ernest Jones. Tells how to hold your club correctly, how to hit the ball for distance and accuracy. For beginners and more experienced golfers.

Send 15c in coin for your copy of Swing's the Thing in Golf to The Edmonton Bulletin, Home Service, write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

Set Off Summer Meals With Delicious Dishes

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Some people say they never did have enough raspberries. Well, here are three more recipes for those raspberry fans—simple, delicious recipes to make summer meals perfect.

RASPBERRY FROZEN CREAM

One pint box red raspberries, ½ cup sugar, ½ cup water, 2 cups thick sour cream or 1 cup sour and 1 cup sweet cream whipped.

Wash raspberries and add to sugar and water. Cook for 5 minutes. Strain through a cloth. Chill and fold in the sour cream and whipped sweet cream. Freeze in tray of mechanical refrigerator for about 2 hours.

RASPBERRY FLUMMERY

One pint box raspberries, 1 cup water, ½ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons cornstarch.

Wash raspberries, crush and add half the sugar and water. Simmer for 5 minutes. Strain through fine cloth. Pour over the remaining sugar mixed with the salt and cornstarch. Cook over low flame until transparent and moderately thick, stirring constantly. Pour into molds. Chill, unmold and serve with thin cream

RASPBERRY SHERBET
(Serves 8 to 10)

Two pint boxes red raspberries, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup water, pinch of salt, juice of 1 orange, 2 egg whites.

Wash berries, crush and cover with sugar and water. Allow to stand a few minutes. Heat to boiling and strain through fine cloth. Chill. Add salt, orange juice and egg whites.

Freeze in crank freezer. One part rock salt to eight parts crushed ice is good proportion for sherbet. Turn slowly to produce fine texture, increasing the speed the last few minutes to increase bulk. (This recipe may be halved.)

For an unusual dessert, mash 2 cups raspberries and add ¼ cup granulated sugar. Stand for 1 hour. Serve with sliced peaches instead of cream. Pass macaroons with this dessert.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Raspberries and cream, dry cereal, whole wheat toast, coffee, milk.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mothers, after trying, are willing to admit that they get nowhere when they try to force their children to eat. Children couldn't possibly grow to like any food pushed down their throats, even if it managed to stay in their tummies. But mothers have an idea that there is no force except physical force and that whatever they do is all right as long as they do not hold their children's noses and force food to swallow.

Mrs. H. M. and Mrs. E. W. have identical problems and have been using identical practices toward eating. Both complain that their 19-months-old and 2-year-old boys won't eat what is put before them. Both mothers have said, "If he won't eat what I want him to eat, I take him away from the table and won't let him have anything more at that meal." Both said that their babies didn't seem to care at all but one of them grew hungry and cross before the next meal and the other one was getting thin from enforced starvation.

Now this is force, just as much as the conduce described above, as are refusing to let the baby eat unless he eats what you say he shall.

WRONG METHOD

This is all wrong. You make a poor eater of the child because he gets used to doing without food. If you persist he'll become chronically set against the food you insist he eat. I have never heard of a parent who was successful with such methods.

NEVER USE FORCE

What you are endeavoring to do is to help the child to like all kinds of foods. Give him a chance to do so. Put the right foods before him and don't make an issue of any he leaves. Children do have appetites for some foods more persistently than others. But is it certain that if the food he doesn't seem to want are presented, without comment, in different and more appealing ways, that eventually the child will taste them and like them. There would be no reason at all why he should not.

If he has a temporary distaste for vegetables or for cereal, pretend not to notice it. In a week or so he'll be back eating them again. No food is so vitally important that it can't be out of the diet for a week or so. And so by such tactics we make no food more urgent than another and give the child no cause for refusing it, because to do so would give him a sense of power and mastery over us.

Our leaflet on "Poor Appetites" gives some of the reasons why children may not want to eat at the moment. To obtain a copy of it send your request with a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Mrs. Eldred of this newspaper.

Myrtle Meyer Eldred will answer your questions about diet, general care and management of children if you will send a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope with your letter to Mrs. Eldred of the Your Baby and Mine department in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

What To Do

The other evening while having dinner with a friend in a restaurant, an old acquaintance of our family happened to pass our table and stopped to inquire how every one was at home. Should I have introduced him to the man with whom I was having dinner?

MISS M. K. G.

Answer—Certainly, the only polite and considerate thing to do was to introduce the passing friend when he stopped to chat at your table. The customary rule when a woman is having dinner with a man, and a friend of hers stops in passing, is for her escort to rise and remain standing during the conversation, which should be very brief, of course. Generally, it is not good form for any one to interrupt persons at dinner; they should merely nod or speak as they pass by. But there are exceptions to every rule, of course. Old friends who have not recently seen each other will naturally stop and chat a moment or two.

Recently placed on the market were automobile tail and head lamps with double filament bulbs. When the first filament burns out, the second is automatically switched on.

Your Figure, Madame!

By IDA JEAN KAIN

The other day Miss Dorothy Kilgallen, who writes a Broadway column that covers everything from the latest Reno schism to the latest stitch in knitting, came out with the incidental information that Hildegarde—the lively Milwaukee girl who made good as a Fifth Avenue singer and entertainer—had been teaching some exercises to a knitting class down at one of the big department stores.

It seems that Hildegarde had been knitting incognito but that the other ladies in the class kept admiring her beautiful figure until finally they came right out and asked how in the world she kept so slim, knitting and sitting being the detriments they are! So she up and showed them three exercises which, she claimed, took three minutes and which—she guaranteed this—would keep any woman slimmed down to a sylph. She said she'd had to cut out one exercise because the routine was so strenuous!

Well, that kind of story just doesn't seem plausible until it occurred to me that maybe somebody was imagining things . . . but I take it all back and apologize this—would keep any woman slimmed down to a sylph. She said she'd had to cut out one exercise because the routine was so strenuous!

Well, that kind of story just doesn't seem plausible until it occurred to me that maybe somebody was imagining things . . . but I take it all back and apologize this—would keep any woman slimmed down to a sylph. She said she'd had to cut out one exercise because the routine was so strenuous!

Well, that kind of story just doesn't seem plausible until it occurred to me that maybe somebody was imagining things . . . but I take it all back and apologize if any of you will do the three exercises Hildegarde showed me, and do them as accurately and as vigorously, you, too, can have a 25-inch waistline. And if you're the same build, five feet seven and one-half inches tall and weigh only 120 pounds, you might also have a 34-inch bust, and a 34½ inch hipline!

Here are the three exercises.

1. Position: Standing erect and stretched tall without hunching the shoulders, feet planted about 18 inches apart, hands on hips.

Movement: Rotate the hips and waist. Keep the legs straight, tummy pulled up, hips tucked under, chin level, and really rotate, sway over to one side, around, and away over to the other. Keep that up for a full minute.

After you have relaxed in a prone position for a few minutes, carry on:

2. Position: Stand with feet wide apart and parallel and hand down at the side. Still keep tummy, up, hips under.

3. Position: Stand erect, with tummy pulled up, hips tucked under—this gets monotonous, but if you don't do the exercise right, don't bother doing them at all!

Movement: Keeping the hips tucked under, very slowly lower the trunk until the hands touch the floor in front of the toes. You should have the slim, streamlined silhouette of a greyhound when you do this. Then, very slowly, raise the trunk to upright position again, hands stretching high overhead in continuation of a stretch originating at the hips. Let the hands come down to the sides, relax, and repeat, 20 times.

Minute Make-Ups

The right dark glasses are very important for your pleasure and for your eyesight. If you wear eyeglasses, have special dark lenses made so that you won't squint to get the right focus. Keep your eyes working but not overworking.

BRITISH BLOCKADES DID NOT WIN THE WORLD WAR

The starvation of the German people by the effective British blockade during the 1914-18 World War has been much overrated, according to British experts and writers. The shortage of food was felt more by the civilians than the soldiers. The chief food shortage came after the war rather than during it. The blockade did not shatter German morale. This was done by soundly beating the German army in the battlefield. Victor Wallace Germains, writing in the London Contemporary Review, says battles, not blockades, bring wars to a decisive point. Defeat or victory comes from the battlefields.

As of January 1, 1940, world registration of motor vehicles reached a record total of 45,422,411 units, an increase of 1,602,482 units over 1939 registrations.

Mother: "Mary is probably humming a tune to herself when she taps with her foot in that way. I'll have to get used to it."

Mother: "Do stop tapping the floor with your foot! I've told you before that it makes me nervous. Do stop it!"

Montreal and Toronto

MONTREAL, June 26—The stock market continued easy today as losses ranging from fractions to a point or more were posted for leading issues.

Fractional declines were marked up against C.P.R., National Steel Car and Dosco. Imperial Oil and International Petroleum also dipped lightly.

Canadian Vickers Has Large Orders

MONTREAL, June 26—J. Edouard Labelle, K.C., president of Canadian Vickers Limited, told shareholders in annual meeting here today the firm now has unfilled orders totalling approximately $9,000,000. Labelle said a meeting of bondholders had been called for July 12 to obtain the co-operation of bondholders in steps to make the most effective use of working capital resources.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, June 26—All varieties of shares slid lower in Wall Street trading today. Steels and aircrafts felt the brunt of the pressure, but displayed resilience after losses of around two points. Near the close they improved from their worst. Transactions totalled about 700,000 shares.

MINIMUM PRICES FOR CASH WHEAT ARE ANNOUNCED

WINNIPEG, June 26. — Council of Winnipeg Grain Exchange today announced setting of minimum prices for contract grades of cash wheat, below which no transactions during specified dates can be made.

June 26-29 (inclusive)	71⅛
July 1-Aug. 3	71⅜
Aug. 5-10	71⅝
Aug. 12-17	71⅞
Aug. 19-24	72⅛
Aug. 26-31	72⅜
Sept. 2-7	72⅝
Sept. 9-14	72⅞
Sept. 16-21	73⅛
Sept. 23-28	73⅜
Sept. 30-Nov. 9	73⅝
Nov. 11-16	73⅞
Nov. 18-23	74⅛
Nov. 25-30	74⅜
Dec. 2-31	74⅝

No. 1 hard wheat has the same figure as No. 1 Northern but the deliverable discount of No. 2 Northern, the announcement said, will be three cents a bushel under No. 1 Northern; No. 3 Northern, eight cents; No. 4 Northern, 18; No. 4 Special, 22; No. 1 C.W. Garnet, 12, and No. 2 C.W. Garnet, 15.

The minimum prices, inaugurated on the Dominion government's request, will remain in force until further notice from the council.

It was explained that the step was taken in view of the fact that wheat futures prices had been provided minimum figures below which no trades could be made. It was considered wise to do likewise in the cash market.

Committee Asks For Foster Homes For Thousands

By R. J. ANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 26 — The United States committee for the care of European children, formed in answer to an "imperative demand from the American people for a unified policy and plan to meet the present emergency," moved today to provide havens for children fleeing the impending "Battle of Britain."

Foster parents and funds sufficient to care for "many thousands" of refugee children from the British Isles were asked by the committee in a nation-wide appeal.

Headed by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the president, as temporary honorary administrative chairman, the committee is receiving the unofficial support of the federal government working through Katherine Lenroot, head of the federal children's bureau in Washington.

MORE THAN CANADA

Upon the United States is expected to fall the task of receiving and caring for perhaps more children than the 10,000 Canada will take in the next few weeks. Immigration and other restrictions so far have hindered American plans for participation in the empire-wide scheme, but signs were not lacking today that moves are afoot to cut the "red tape."

Appeals to the state department by Joseph P. Kennedy, United States ambassador to Great Britain, to speed up the immigration selective process were expected to hasten American evacuation plans.

PROVIDED BY LAW

No figure has been set on the number of children to be admitted. Present plans provide care in family homes for such children as may qualify to come into the country within the limitations provided by law. This limits the quota of British immigrants to 75,721 yearly and requires posting of bonds guaranteeing that aliens will not become public charges.

The committee formed in New York is pressing for the relaxation of the restrictions. The committee will extend financial aid to Canadian organizations which will handle the first contingent.

Steamship Offices Busy In London

LONDON, June 26.—Scenes reminiscent of the days of active migration to Canada are being re-enacted in busy steamship offices in London where hundreds of bookings are sought daily.

Most of those making application are the wives and children of Canadians living in Britain who are anxious to send their families back to the safety of the Dominion. Also seeking information at steamship and passport offices are scores of persons with relatives in Canada who are hoping to find a haven for aged persons or children.

OTTAWA, June 26.—Senator Iva Fallis (Con., Ontario), brought the refugee question to the attention of the Senate yesterday and said 100,000 Canadian homes were ready to accept refugee and evacuee children from the European war zones.

The Peterborough Senator based this estimate on a survey made by the committee for voluntary registration of Canadian women, of which she is chairman.

The government leader, Hon. Raoul Dandurand, said the Canadian government was complying with requests of British authorities in connection with the child refugee and evacuee problem.

A meeting in Ottawa of provincial and Dominion ministers, to discuss arrangements for looking after evacuee children coming to Canada from the United Kingdom has been set for Thursday, the resources minister, Hon. T. A. Crerar, announced.

Broomhall

Cutting has started in Italy but the season is backward. Reports are less optimistic and it is doubtful whether the yield will be sufficient for home needs. With a population of 43,000,000 and the usual army waste it will be necessary to harvest at least 300,000,000 bushels soft and hard wheat. On the 12,000,000 acres seeded the crop might reach 275,000,000 bus., if the weather is favorable but on a similar acreage in 1936 the crop gathered was only 225,000,000. The past two years crops have been 295,000,000 according to official reports which may have been exaggerated. As much as 20 per cent of coarse grains was added to the wheat flour in 1936 to eke out the domestic crop. Our cable of yesterday inferred that this year's crop was not likely to cover home needs. The political news from Europe is very gloomy. While Germany has captured great quantities of raw materials, no country overrun has any surplus grain with the exception of perhaps Poland. Great Britain will be unable to relinquish the blockade of Germany and it would appear that the other neutral countries and France will suffer along with Germany unless some organization is formed to supply the neutrals with sustenance. The Canadian government telegraphic report issued last night said that showers were light in the Prairie provinces last week, except in Manitoba, southeastern Sask., and southern Alberta, where beneficial rains were received. Wheat is now in the shot blade stage. Manitoba has sufficient moisture now except for a few scattered country points. Central Saskatchewan will need further rains later on. Alberta is generally well supplied with moisture. Grasshoppers continue to multiply. Broomhall's correspondent in the Argentine reported general rain yesterday which will delay seeding and cause deterioration to corn. The excessive rainfall this season is becoming alarming and has held up field work seriously with precipitation above normal, and it is very necessary that a spell of dry cold weather prevail.

MOTION ASKS FOR TRAINING CADETS HERE

Reintroduction of Cadets In Edmonton Schools Urged by Trustee

Reflecting again the seriousness of the times from a military standpoint, notice of motion calling for the reintroduction of cadet training as an optional part of physical education was placed before the Edmonton Public School board at a regular meeting Tuesday night.

Trustee Melvin Downey, in serving notice of motion, suggested that the Superintendent of schools be asked to work out details and if necessary a special committee be appointed to co-operate with the superintendent.

Action of a nature proposed by Trustee Downey has already been adopted by the Calgary School Board. Cadet training was dropped here some years ago.

DISCUSS EVACUEES

Several other matters pertaining to increase in the tempo of Canada's war effort were also dealt with by the board.

Complete co-operation of the school board in the matter of providing education facilities for refugee children from the British Isles was promised when a letter from the Women's University Club was dealt with.

The club had sought information concerning the possible status of these children in city schools, as to whether tuition would be free or paid for on the non-resident tuition fee basis.

Trustee Bruce Smith moved that the club be informed of the board's readiness to co-operate, once the government's plan of providing homes for these children is completed.

GRANT SCHOOL USE

The board also gave speedy approval to the property committee's recommendation for granting use of the Technical school's shops for training aircraft construction mechanics during the summer vacation months as requested by the Dominion government. It was suggested, however, that the school principal be in charge of the equipment during the period in which the government uses the shop facilities.

Permission to use the Household Mechanics room at the technical school for the purpose of demonstrating the feasability of a suggested plan for conserving surplus food supplies for possible refugees was also granted. Mrs. Stuart Matheson and Mrs. A. B. Fry both had laid the plan before the property committee of the board at a meeting last week.

Through The Mill

A young woman who let her benefactors down will have the next 60 days in which to ponder over her lack of gratitude. The magistrate decided on a prison term after delivering a sharp lecture that brought tears of repentance from the feminine vagrant at city police court Wednesday morning. But tardy tears were not enough to win another chance from the court after a detective went into the box and told the story.

* * *

It seems that the young lady has a home in the south of the province. Following a warning from police some time ago, she had appealed to the Salvation Army for assistance and this splendid organization had cared for her and prevailed upon her relatives to send money for transportation home.

But then, just when the somewhat sordid affair seemed headed for a bright and happy ending, temptation was too strong for the young woman. Come a $15 cheque from home, unofficially earmarked for trainfare. But instead of rushing right down to the station and purchasing the fare, the young woman went instead to a local tavern. When she emerged, to walk unsteadily right into the arms of a couple of city morality officers, the $15 was gone and also was all immediate hope of a happy reunion at home for the young lady.

The magistrate couldn't very well do different than what he did.

* * *

"You apparently dont appreciate what has been done for you by the Salvation Army; he scolded. "I'm going to send you to jail for 60 days."

* * *

Three youths who have become involved in the theft of some automobile accessories were remanded until July 4. Remand was sought in order that one of the lads might finish writing his school examinations.

* * *

Edmonton Citizens Get 'Damp' Feeling As Rain Continues

Edmontonians had that "damp feeling" Wednesday morning as they splashed to work through a light but steady rain. Wednesday's rain brought the total precipitation during the past two days to .75 inches. Weather experts forecast still more rain Wednesday as they issued their daily forecast of "rain with little change in temperature."

The sky was heavily overcast Wednesday morning and at 8:30 a.m. the temperature was 55 above, while the barometer was unsteady at 27.46. Tuesday found the mercury hitting a high mark of 69 above and a low of 54 above for an average temperature for the day of 64 above.

Rain that has been peppering city residents for the past two days spread to the near north late Tuesday evening, where showers were recorded at Fort St. John, Dawson Creek, Pouce Coupe, Mirror Landing and Athabasca. The entire near-north was cloudy and threatening rain Wednesday morning.

Churchmen Honored

Honoring F. C. Glover, church organist and choirmaster at St. James, and E. H. Tucker, who occupied the positions as vicar's warden, people's warden and treasurer for 25 years, members of the congregation of the Anglican church at Edson entertained in St. Catherine's parish hall last Friday evening. Gifts were presented to the guests, and bouquets of flowers presented to Mrs. Glover and Mrs. Tucker.

MOBILIZING FOR DEFENCE AUTHORIZED

Alberta Dragoons, 15th Light Horse Now Being Recruited

Mobilization for home defence purposes of the 19th Alberta Dragoons and 15th Light Horse of Calgary, as part of the non-permanent active militia has been authorized, it was announced Wednesday by Lt. Col. E. Brown, M.M., E.D., Area Commandant.

Staff administration will be under the officer commanding, an adjutant, quarter-master-sergeant, orderly room clerk and assistant instructor.

Maj. Cubitt of Chauvin is acting officer commanding the 19th Dragoons.

MEDICAL BOARD

Col. Brown announced that on Friday a medical board would sit at Vermilion on behalf of the South Alberta Regiment (31st Bn, C.E.F.) to recruit about 40 men for the regiment. Officers of the regiment will be present and the recruiting will be carried on in co-operation with the Vermilion branch of the Canadian Legion.

A group of 150 men arrived at the Prince of Wales armory Wednesday from the Peace River territory and will be enlisted in the Royal Canadian Engineers, the Royal Canadian Artillery, Edmonton Regiment, and the South Alberta Regiment.

The men of all units will be documented and outfitted here and the officers, artillery and Edmonton Regiment men will then go to Calgary for further training.

OFFICER VISITS

Col. Brown said that it was expected that Lt. Col. Ralph Webb, D.S.O., M.C., of Winnipeg, officer in charge of messing or the "cook house", would visit the Edmonton Garrison on Thursday.

He will inspect all messes, including kitchens and food-stuffs.

Capt. C. Leslie Smith, general staff officer, Military District No. 13, returned to Calgary Tuesday night after carrying out qualifying examinations for non-commissioned officers of the 96th Field Battery, R.C.A., non-permanent active militia.

Recruiting Opened For Two Regiments

Affording young men of this city every possible opportunity of obtaining military training under qualified instructors and officers who served with the mighty Canadian Corps in France during the World War, recruiting opened Tuesday night for two new units rich in tradition and laden with battle honors.

The Edmonton Regiment, perpetuating the 49th Battalion, which brought lustre to this city by its valorous achievements in France, and the Edmonton Fusiliers (M.G.) are being mobilized to full strength as part of the non-permanent active militia.

HOME DEFENCE

These units will train and will give men of military age a chance to obtain military training without interference with their regular vocations in preparation for home defence.

Recruiting for the Edmonton Regiment commenced at the Prince of Wales Armory under Maj. Wallace Hale, M.C., who has been appointed to command the unit.

Mobilization of the Fusiliers is being carried out at Victoria Armory, 106 street and 100 avenue, under Maj. H. B. Jamieson.

Between 30 and 40 enlisted in each unit. Offices will be open again Wednesday night, and the two regiments will carry out training two or three nights a week.

Next Sunday candidates for examinations in the Edmonton Fusiliers will write their tests, following months of intensive study and attendance at classes.

Alberta, Federal Tax Exemptions Have Same Level

Revisions in the Dominion income tax, announced Monday in Canada's new budget, have reduced a married person's exemption from $2,000 to $1,500 and the single person's from $1,000 to $750, putting them on the same level as those in effect under the Alberta tax, it was noted here Wednesday. No change is made in the $400 exemption for each dependent, this being the same for the province as the Dominion.

The Dominion will take a huge sum from the pockets of Albertans this year to help finance the country's war effort with the stiffening of the Dominion income tax rates and the additional adoption of a new national defence tax.

The new federal taxation schedule does away with the old five per cent surtax and the 20 per cent war surtax on personal incomes.

AMBULANCE PARADE

St. John Ambulance Brigade, Edmonton Division, No. 61, will meet at headquarters Thursday at 8 p.m. It is important that all members attend this meeting as Dr. Alley Day will be on hand to conduct a re-examination in first aid.—Stan. F. Jack, Div. Sec.

Tag Day For Underprivileged

Here we are, folks—some of Edmonton's underprivileged school boys, for whom the women of the Better Health Camp Council for Coots will be out tagging on Saturday next from 8 a.m. until dark. Each year the mothers who make up the Better Health Camp Council open their camp at Lac Ste. Anne for Edmonton youngsters who would otherwise spend the summer in town. The boys are picked by the Public school nurses under the supervision of the city medical health officer. Only youngsters who need the good food, the supervised camp activities and the general body building routine of the camp are chosen. Of course this takes money, but it also takes work, and the mothers of the Better Health Camp Council provide that, free. They do the cooking, the washing, and the camp mothering without pay. You can do your bit to help them by giving freely on Saturday next. Taggers are wanted for Saturday. Get in touch with Mrs. C. M. King at 71877 or Mrs. J. Kinisky at 28270, or report to Kresges' recreation room at 8 o'clock on Saturday morning. Kresges have given the recreation room as headquarters for the tag day, and in addition to Mrs. King and Mrs. Kinisky, a committee composed of Mrs. Charles Hutchings, Mrs. L. Snye, Mrs. E. Stanforth, Mrs. J. P. Elder, Mrs. E. Delany and Mrs. Johnson is assisting. Don't forget, Saturday's the day, and the occasion is the tag day to raise funds for the work of the Better Health Camp Council for underprivileged Edmonton school boys.

AROUND THE TOWN

Owing to the inclemency of the weather, the benefit garden party which was to have been held at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Weekes at Horse Hills, under auspices of the Women's Red Cross auxiliary to the Edmonton Garrison hospital, on Wednesday (today) has been cancelled.

So far as is known in government circles here, no cut-off in Alberta relief to unemployed single unemployed is contemplated here, according to a statement made Wednesday by Norman Low, provincial treasurer and acting minister of health and relief during the absence of Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, who is at Ottawa on official business. British Columbia has announced that all able-bodied single men up to 40 years of age will be refused unemployment relief in the province after August 1.

Annual meeting of the Alberta Co-operative Council will be held at Red Deer on July 3 and 4, it was announced by E. W. Brunsden, secretary, Wednesday. Chief speakers at the convention will be H. H. Harman, Toronto, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, and George S. Houghham, Toronto, executive of the Canadian food distribution council. Widening of the council's constitution to inaugurate the Alberta Federation of agriculture will be one of the main items of business at the meeting.

Provincial government activities were slowed down this week as a result of the absence from the province of three cabinet ministers, Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health, who is at Ottawa, accompanied by A. A. Mackenzie, chairman of the Alberta bureau of relief and public welfare, will arrive at Ottawa Thursday to discuss with Dominion government officials the new Dominion-Provincial relief agreement. Also discussing affairs with Dominion officials are Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines, and Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., minister of municipal affairs, who are conferring on the private bill to be brought before parliament this session granting Alberta the right to establish a provincial bank. Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, and Hon. Ernest C. Manning, minister of trade and industry, are in Calgary attending a two-day conference with Dominion government and mortgage company officials regarding application of the Dominion Housing Act to this province.

As part of a "Canada Carries On" campaign, there will be a meeting Thursday in the Jasper Place school at 8 p.m. for those interested in a summer recreation class for children of all ages.

Appointment of a three-man personnel for the Workmen's Compensation Board, including a labor representative, to replace the present one-man board, was urged at a meeting of the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Labor party in the Labor hall Tuesday night. Since 1935 Dr. Victor Wright has been sole member of the board. Persons discussing the suggestion claimed that as the board dealt practically exclusively with the labor it would have a labor representative on it.

Registered unemployed in this province last Saturday totalled 6,261, according to figures released Wednesday by the Alberta Government Service. This is a decrease over the previous week when the total was 6,206. Of the total registered last week there were 3,865 men and 396 women. This city had 3,220 men and 160 women; Calgary 1,892 men and 214 women; Lethbridge, 349 men and 15 women; Medicine Hat, 203 men and five women, and Drumheller, 149 men and two women. During the week positions were found for 363 men and 119 women.

THE QUESTION

Vancouver business girls having decided to go without silk stockings during July and August to contribute $2 each to the wartime funds of organizations the Inquiring Reporter today made inquiries about Edmonton business girls' views of a similar procedure here.

THE ANSWERS

Lorna Macdonald, cashier: I think it's a grand idea. However, the last word on the subject would undoubtedly come from the husbands of the business girls. They might decide the girls wouldn't look smart enough around the office if they sacrificed silk stockings.

* * *

JEANNETTE PAUL, stenographer: Personally I would rather contribute to the wartime funds in some other way.

* * *

LORRAINE BOURQUE, stenographer: A marvellous idea, that. I'd have no objections to going without silk stockings for the summer months, and if all the business girls co-operated a big sum of money should be realized for the wartime funds.

* * *

LOUISE PEARSON, stenographer: A sizeable fund could be collected from the business girls in the city if the scheme were carried out in Edmonton.

COAST PICNIC IS ARRANGED FOR JULY 17th

The 14th annual picnic of the Edmonton-Vancouver Association will be held in Stanley Park, Vancouver, on Wednesday, July 17, commencing at 2 p.m., according to word received in Edmonton today from an official of the association.

Attendance at this gathering in recent years has averaged about 1,200 persons, of whom about 300 have been coast visitors from Edmonton who enjoy meeting old friends from the Alberta capital who now reside in Vancouver.

The picnic committee is arranging a suitable program and will furnish tea, cream and sugar. Picnickers must bring their own cups and lunches.

Cree Indians To Donate Ambulance For Army Corps

Members of the Samson, Ermine Skin and Louis Bull bands of the Cree Indian tribe of Hobbema reserve have decided to donate an ambulance to the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, it was announced Monday by Col. A. G. B. Lewis, reserve Indian agent. Samson, Ermine Skin and Louis Bull bands donated $700, $500 and $500 respectively. The bands are composed of about 1,100 members. The money will be drawn from interest on funds owned by the bands which ordinarily would be distributed among members on a per capita basis.

Improvement Is Reported For Mishap Victims

Slight improvement in the condition of Mrs. Stewart Lund, who in head-on auto collision near Spruce Grove, was reported by hospital attendants Tuesday morning.

Robert Hollis, 11, second eldest of a family of four, who received head injuries in the crash, is showing signs of rallying although his condition is still serious. The child is in the General hospital.

James Stewart, alleged driver of one of the cars, is also improved, according to Royal Alexandra hospital officials. Stewart has a fractured skull and other injuries.

School Holidays Start On Friday

Edmonton schools will close on Friday, June 28, for the annual summer vacation period and reopen on September 3, it was announced at a regular meeting of the school board Tuesday night.

BATTLE FUND ON INCREASE IN EDMONTON

Red Cross Ambulance Fund At $2,647; I.O.D.E. Collects $3,845

Keenly aware of the necessity of rallying all possible support to the national campaigns for wartime funds, citizens are doing their bit in adding daily to the special funds of the Red Cross, the I.O.D.E. and the Twentieth Century Ambulance funds.

Contributions to the special bank-ing account of the Red Cross are being received at the main branch of the Bank of Montreal for the purchase of ambulances for service in war-torn countries. Donations reached the $2,647.03-mark Wednesday.

DANCE TO AID

Members of the Stagettes Club, Edmonton branch, are holding a dance at the new Star Dairy barn on Thursday, July 4, in aid of the Twentieth Century Ambulance fund. Wednesday's contributions totalled $915.52.

Chapters of the I.O.D.E. throughout the province are pouring in contributions to the provincial fund of the order here, toward the $7,000 Alberta quota of the $100,000 required for the purchase of a Hollingsworth bombing plane. Received Wednesday were the following donations: Lac Chapter at Champion, $50; Mount Rundle Chapter, Banff, $57.25, and McLennan Chapter, McLennan, $3, bringing total contributions to date to $3,845.25.

NEW GROUPS

Several new war-work groups affiliated with the Red Cross have been formed in the city, and a branch is being organized at Debolt.

A shipment of about 400 blankets will be forwarded soon by the Red Cross Thursday, and five cases of hospital supplies and refugee clothing were sent off Tuesday night.

WINGS OF THE NORTH

Officials of Mackenzie Air Service Ltd. announced Wednesday that George Gilmour, veteran northern pilot with C.M. and S., has joined their staff. He will work out of Yellowknife. Gilmour has been flying with C.M. and S. for three years and knows the northland routes like the palm of his hand. He is considered one of the best "bush" pilots in the north. He was formerly associated with the Dominion Land Aircraft Corporation at Toronto.

Jack Moar of Canadian Airways was southbound from Yellowknife for Edmonton, Wednesday, while Cec. McNeil was southbound from Goldfields to McMurray. Paul Boisvert is on a charter trip out of Aklavik. Fred Meilicke is northbound from Yellowknife to Radium and return.

* * *

Joe Irwin of Canadian Airways arrived from Yellowknife Wednesday with six passengers, including "Lucky" Benny, who early this spring was brought from Radium to Yellowknife for an emergency operation by Jack Moar. The dramatic mercy flight made by Moar was one of the most daring in the history of northern flying. He landed on a narrow channel blasted by dynamite in the ice on Great Bear Lake, took on his passenger and returned to Yellowknife with his patient.

Warden McLean Of Fort Saskatchewan Jail Is Suspended

Warden of the Fort Saskatchewan jail for the last 15 years, J. D. McLean has been suspended, it was announced by provincial government officials Wednesday. Suspension will remain effective pending investigation of various circumstances by the public works department and submission of a report thereon to the cabinet. In the meantime, R. E. Thorne, deputy warden, is in charge of the jail.

Investigation of circumstances leading up to Warden McLean's suspension is now under way, according to G. H. N. Monkman, deputy minister of public works. The provincial jails are under administration of this government department, and the Fort Saskatchewan jail staff have been made recently.

Several weeks ago, G. E. Blake, warden of the Lethbridge jail, was dismissed.

C.O.T.C. Training Not Possible For Edmonton Teachers

Because of an acute shortage of instructors, Alberta teachers will be unable to obtain military training under a proposed C.O.T.C. plan at the University of Alberta during the summer vacation months.

John W. Barnett, secretary of the Alberta Teachers' Association, made the announcement Tuesday following submission of the proposals to military authorities. The latter have suggested that teachers who desire to secure military training join one of the local militia units.

ABANDONING RAIL LINES IS PROPOSED

Railways Claim the Plan Would Save $23,109 a Year; Protests Voiced

An annual saving of approximately $23,109 in maintenance and operation costs could be effected by the abandonment of 12.31 miles of line between Trelle Junction and Morinville, and 29.76 miles between Carbondale and Egremont, G. H. Patterson, Montreal, assistant engineer, department of research, C.N.R., told members of the board of transport commissioners Wednesday while giving evidence on applications by the C.N.R. and the N. A. R. for permission to abandon these branch lines.

Sittings of the board opened Wednesday morning at the courthouse with Col. J. A. Cross, K.C., presiding. Other members of the board are G. A. Stone and F. M. MacPherson, Ottawa, e. registrar.

Considerable opposition is being offered to the application by local farmers, businessmen, grain and elevator companies. Opposition to the abandonment of the lines is also being made by the province of Alberta.

Appearing for the railway companies are D. D. Owens, K.C., Winnipeg, C.N.R.; James McCaig, K.C., Calgary, C.P.R., and D. L. McNeill, N.A.R.

J. Boyd McBride, K.C., Edmonton, is acting for a farmers' and businessmen's committee in opposition to the application. M. M. Porte, K.C., and Harold W. Riley, Calgary, represent the Alberta Wheat Pool and Alberta Pool Elevators Ltd.; Maynard Reid, K.C., and M. I. Friedman, several grain and elevator companies; H. A. Stimpson, Winnipeg, United Grain Growers' Ltd., and G. W. Yates, the railway employees.

Border Adventure

By Oren Arnold

CAST OF CHARACTERS

SHERIDAN STARR, handsome Border Patrol officer.

CHAPTER XIII

HOPE KILDARE arose at 3 o'clock on the morning following the "visit" with Luis Barro in Mexico.

He went outside his landlady's house and, surprisingly, put up a ladder that gave him access to the roof. But even with his powerful field glasses he couldn't see the Montezuma Hotel in Juarez, because of nearby obstructions. The Two Republics Building in downtown El Paso seemed to be directly in the way. Anyhow the light was still dense at that hour.

He got into his own swift sport coupe then and drove hurriedly around in a large half circle, coming out on the Mount Franklin Scenic Drive, a long hill that gave him altitude quickly. He stopped at Lookout Point, several hundred feet above the city, and focussed his field glasses again.

"That's the Montezuma, right enough," he murmured. "And that's sure as shootin' the northeast room on the fourth floor. But the window is blank."

That disturbed him. He watched the window in the haze for several minutes, wondering if Betty Mary could have forgotten to put up her promised signal. Or maybe she didn't mean to hang out the two handkerchiefs until some time this morning anyway. After all, she only suggested it last evening. She would hardly be awake yet.

He envisioned her asleep. Would she have the sleeping-beauty type of daintiness? Fragile, and exquisitely colored, her dark eyelashes drooping in little curves, her little ear — oh, glory! He wished he had taken a poke last night at Luis Barro. Or just up and shot him while he could.

Betty Mary had saved his life a few nights ago, he would be eternally indebted to her. And there was no use kidding himself about it, he loved that girl as he had never loved any other person anywhere. He wished he might tell her so. But—

• • •

Well, there was Sheridan.

She had given Sherry the first date. She had given Sherry the note last night. Obviously she favored Sherry. What did Sherry have that made him preferable? Frankly, he didn't know. But certainly he cared! Hope sighed.

Abruptly, he touched his starter and rolled back toward town. He was deeply unhappy, miserable and sick at heart without very strong cause. He didn't recognize it as such, but the truth was, he was jealous, thoroughly jealous. But he would not have admitted this.

He stopped at the house where Sherry lived but learned that Sherry had already dressed and gone to town. It was still not 7 a.m. Hope drove down to Border Patrol headquarters. The men on night duty greeted him cordially. Kildare and Starr were a popular team among the Immigration and Naturalization officers and the customs force.

"Sherry Starr been around this morning?" Hope inquired.

"Yep. He went up the tower, to take a two-hour shift and relieve the regular man a little. He's up there now."

"Yeah? Well."

So Sheridan also was looking for Betty Mary's signals, Hope realized. But then—why not? She was working with both of them; they both felt responsible for her; justly so. He went inside the building and telephoned up to Sherry.

"See anything?" Hope asked, without preliminaries.

"Listen, you mug, a girl doesn't have to get up at unearthly hours like a flatfoot federal cop, see? Maybe she thinks 9 o'clock is the crack of dawn. Can you see her window?"

"Sure, plain as day now. It's open, but the shade's pulled against the morning sun I guess."

"Um. Well, when you going to eat?"

"I talked the man out of half his shift up here, so I'll have to perch here until 8. Wait for me."

"Okay," said Hope, and hung up.

• • •

At 8 Sherry came down looking glum, and the two men ate breakfast in silence at a nearby restaurant. When they drifted back to the office at 9, a special delivery letter, postmarked El Paso, was waiting for them. It was addressed to Sherry! But inside it said:

"Dear Boys:

"We made no arrangements for communicating with each other, except the window signals, so I shall cross back to El Paso in a taxicab at daybreak and mail this letter to you.

"Barro escorted me to the Montezuma Hotel at 11 p.m. He told the Mexican maid to take special care of me, and the way he presumed to order her—almost fiercely—made me suspect that she might be one of his band. When she came to help me go to bed, I managed to display my .22 cartridge to her, and again it worked!

"She is one of Barro's spotters. Being in a hotel, she can watch for aliens and others who might be his customers, and tip him off to a lot of things. He pays her well, she says. She never questioned my status at all. Naturally she wouldn't, since Barro himself brought me there, and I had the secret token. So I pumped her all I dared, posing as a worker also. I learned this —that narcotics are going across the river every day, in bread daylight. She, and all of Barro's gang who know about it, are elated with the success of the newest dodges, she revealed. I pretended to be one of those in the know, so I didn't learn everything. But I do know that a woman in bringing some of the dope over. It is cocaine, and somehow there is a child in the plan, too. That's all the hints I could pick up.

"Don't try to answer, or see me. (Unless you want to post again!) I'll communicate with you somehow. Love—Betty Mary."

The two officers read the letter together, then Sheridan read it aloud.

"Whew!" Hope breathed.

"Could that be the Tafoya woman? With her kid?"

"No, I don't see how. Sherry. She's been arrested twice already, she and her daughter, and both of them searched by the jail matron. I was there the last time myself. In fact I held the little kid's doll while they took her inside. She's a cute kid. No hint of smuggling there."

"They had a clean permit to cross?"

They walked a block to a point on the American bank of the Rio Grande where they could see the Montezuma Hotel in Juarez, and at once both men discovered what they sought.

"Well, so much for that for the time being," Sheridan agreed. "But we got work locating a woman bringing over Mr. Barro's ecalneL"

Text Of Italian-French Armistice Terms

ROME, June 26.—Terms of the Italian armistice with France, made public Tuesday night, provided that Italian troops "will stand on their advanced lines in all theatres of operations."

1—France will cease hostilities in metropolitan territory, in French North Africa, in the colonies, and in territories under French mandate. France will also cease hostilities in the air and on the sea.

2—When the armistice comes into force and for the duration of the armistice, Italian troops will stand on their advanced lines in all theatres of operations.

3—In French metropolitan territory, a zone situated between the lines referred to in article 2 and a line drawn 50 kilometres (about 30 miles) as the crow flies beyond the Italian lines proper shall be demilitarized for the duration of the armistice.

ZONES DEMILITARIZED

In Tunis, the militarized zone between the present Libyan-Tunisian frontier and the line drawn on an attached map shall be demilitarized for the duration of the armistice.

In Algeria and in French African territories south of Algeria which border on Libya, a zone 200 kilometres wide (about 125 miles) adjoining the Libyan frontier shall be demilitarized for the duration of the armistice.

For the duration of hostilities between Italy and the British Empire and for the duration of the armistice, the French Somaliland coast shall be entirely demilitarized.

Italy shall have full and constant right to use the port of Jibuti with all its equipment, together with the French section of the Jibuti-Addis Ababa railway, for all kinds of transport.

4—The zones to be demilitarized shall be evacuated by French troops within 10 days after the cessation of hostilities, except only for the personnel strictly necessary for the supervision and maintenance of fortification works, barracks, arms depots and military buildings, and the troops required to maintain order in the interior as shall be determined later by the Italian armistice commission.

5—Under full reserve of the right mentioned in article 10, which follows, all arms, supplies, and ammunition in the zones to be demilitarized in French metropolitan territory adjoining Libya together with the arms surrendered to the troops effecting the evacuation of the territories concerned, must be removed within 15 days.

INCLUDES ALGERIA

(French metropolitan or home territory includes all the territory occupied by France on the continent and the three departments composing Algeria, which were incorporated with France proper, and are not regarded by France as colonial territory.)

Fixed armaments in the fortification works and the accompanying ammunition must, in the period, be rendered useless in the coastal territory of French Somaliland. All moveable arms and ammunition together with those to be given up to the troops effecting the evacuation of the territory shall be laid down within 15 days in places to be indicated by the Italian armistice commission.

In the case of fixed armaments and ammunition in fortification works in the above territory, the same procedure shall be followed as for French metropolitan territory and territory adjoining Libya.

6—So long as hostilities continue between Italy and the British Empire, the maritime military fortified areas and naval bases of Toulon, Bizerte, Ajaccio and Oran shall be demilitarized until the cessation of hostilities against the above-named empire.

This demilitarization is to be achieved within 15 days.

RENDER FORTS USELESS.

It must be such as to render such fortresses and bases useless insofar as their offensive or defensive effect is concerned. Their capacity for supply will be limited, under the control of the Italian armistice commission, to the needs of the French war vessels which under the conditions of article 12 will keep their base there.

7—In the zones including either military or naval fortresses or naval bases to be demilitarized, the French civil authorities naturally will remain in charge, as well as police forces necessary to the maintenance of public order; there will also remain there the territorial, military and maritime authorities who will be designated by the Italian armistice commission.

8—The Italian armistice commission will determine geographically the exact limits of the zones, military and maritime fortresses and naval bases to be demilitarized and the details by which this demilitarization will be carried out. The same commission will have full and continuous rights to supervise the execution of these zones, fortresses and bases, of everything which is mentioned in the foregoing articles, whether applying to the methods of inspection or to the conduct of its commissions on the spot.

DEMOBILIZE FORCES

9—All armed land, sea and air forces in metropolitan France shall be demobilized and disarmed within a specified period to be fixed later, except such formations as are necessary to maintain internal order. The strength and armament of such formations will be determined by Italy and Germany.

So far as the territories of French North Africa, Syria and the coast of French Somaliland are concerned, the Italian armistice commission will take into account, in fixing the procedure for demobilization and disarmament, the particular importance of maintaining order in those territories.

10—Italy reserves the right, as a guarantee of the execution of the armistice Convention, to demand the surrender in whole or in part of the collective arms of the infantry and artillery, armored cars, tanks, motor vehicles and horse vehicles, together with ammunition belonging to units who have been engaged or have been facing Italian forces.

11—Arms, munitions and war materials of whatever sort which remained in French non-occupied territory, including arms and munitions evacuated from this zone and from military and maritime fortresses and naval bases to be demilitarized and excluding that part which may be left for use of units permitted to remain in operation, will be gathered together and deposited under Italian and German control. The manufacture of war materials of any sort in non-occupied territory must cease immediately.

ORDER FLEET DISARMED

12—Units of the French fleet shall be concentrated in ports to be indicated, and demobilized and disarmed under the control of Italy and Germany, except for such units as the Italian and German governments shall agree upon for the safeguard of French colonial territories. The determining factor in the selection of the ports referred to above shall be the assignment of naval units in peacetime.

"All warships not in French metropolitan waters, except those which shall be reorganized as necessary to safeguard French colonial interests, shall be brought back to metropolitan ports.

"The Italian government declares that it does not intend to use, in the present war, units of the French fleet under its control, and that on conclusion of peace it does not intend to lay claim to the French fleet.

13—All mined areas will be reported to the Italian high command. French authorities will take measures within 10 days to remove by their own means all railway and highway obstacles, mined fields and mined areas of every sort which have been established in the region of military and maritime fortresses and naval bases which are to be demilitarized.

14—The French government, in addition to the obligation not to carry on hostilities in any form anywhere against Italy, undertakes to prevent members of its armed forces and French citizens generally from leaving national territory to take part in hostilities against Italy.

Against violators of the rule and against French citizens already abroad who collectively or individually may undertake acts of hostility against Italy, Italian troops will employ treatment generally accorded combatants outside the law.

PREVENT BRITISH USE

15—The French government shall undertake to prevent warships, airplanes, arms, war materials and munitions of every kind, belonging to France from being sent to territories belonging to the British Empire or to other foreign states.

16—Departure of all the French merchant marine is forbidden until such time as the Italian and German governments may permit partial or total resumption of commercial maritime traffic.

The French merchant marine which is not at the moment of the armistice in French ports or some way under French control will be called recalled to French ports or sent to neutral port.

17—All Italian merchant vessels which have been captured will be immediately restored with their entire cargos, which were consigned to Italy at the moment of capture. Also there must be restored all non-perishable merchandise either Italian or consigned to Italy which had been captured aboard non-Italian vessels.

18—All airplanes which are on French territory or territory under French control are forbidden to take off. All airports and all airplane equipment in such territories shall be under German and Italian control. Foreign airplanes which are on the territories referred to above will be delivered to Italian and German military authorities.

19—Until the Italian and German governments shall have decided otherwise all wireless installations from French metropolitan territory generally is prohibited.

Conditions for wireless communication between France and North Africa, Syria and French Somaliland are to be determined by the Italian armistice commission.

TRANSPORT OF GOODS

21—All Italian prisoners of war and Italian civilians who have been interned, or arrested and sentenced for political reasons, crimes or on account of the war, shall be immediately handed over to the Italian government.

22—The French government shall guarantee the good preservation of all material that it has or may have to deliver under the terms of the armistice convention.

23—The Italian armistice commission, under the presidency of the high command will be charged with directing and supervising either directly or by means of its agents execution of this armistice convention. It will also be entrusted with supplying the necessary explanations which may be called for by the German armistice commission already concluded between Germany and France.

SET UP DELEGATION

24—At the headquarters of the commission referred to in the previous articles, there will be established also a French delegation charged with presenting the decisions of its own government or of the commission and with supplying or receiving explanations which may be necessary in connection with the carrying out of this convention.

25—This armistice convention will become effective upon signature. Hostilities will cease at the moment when the German government notifies the French government that a German government has been established which is prepared to enter into negotiations for the conclusion of peace.

26—The conventions which remain in force until the conclusion of a peace treaty, but may be denounced by Italy at any time in the event the French government does not fulfill its obligations.

Government Gives Study To Interim Payment On Wheat

OTTAWA, June 26.—The government has under consideration the matter of an interim payment on the 1939 wheat crop, Trade Minister J. A. MacKinnon said in the House of Commons today. It was proposed a Liberal member from Prince Edward Island, Dr. J. Bentley Rogers, that a further payment of 10 cents per bushel be made on wheat sold before the end of the present crop year. The minister said the matter was under study.

Vladivostok War Materials Trade Is Now Declining

LONDON, June 26.—Hugh Dalton, minister of economic warfare, told the House of Commons yesterday that trade in war materials between Vladivostok and Soviet Russia's far eastern ports is declining. Before the war, he said, Japanese merchants were shipping enormous quantities of steel and machinery to Russia by the Vladivostok route.

Cooling Off Feet That Trod France's Flaming Fields

These British Tommies, who took part in the terrific fighting in France, know what the term "front soldiers' means. Back in England for a rest, they take it beneath a tent, while cool breezes soothe their war-weary feet.

French Tunisia Well Defended

Since Italy first began the outcry for Tunisia, France has been strengthening the defenses of her African colony. Today, threatened by Italy, Tunisia is well-equipped for defense. This parade of heavy tanks was photographed during the visit of Premier Edouard Daladier in the early days of the war that has become the bloodiest war in history.

Planes For France—Now They'll Go To Britain

These U.S. fighting planes destined to be shipped to France by way of Canada are now being held at Mitchell Field, L.I., pending word from the Allied purchasing commission. The French peace moves held up the order. It is believed they will go to the British now.

Two Flying Aces Talk Over Old Times

In Ottawa to address a meeting of the Federation of Canadian Mayors and Municipalities, Mayor La Guardia of New York was entertained at the home of Honorary Air Marshal W. A. Bishop, director of recruiting in the R.C.A.F. Mayor La Guardia, an American flying ace in the last war, and "Billy" Bishop, Canadian fighting ace of the last war, had much in common to talk about.

Looking Them Over

By Jack Kelly

Urgent Now Make Certain

Blacksnake

IT WAS a little over a month ago that the suggestion was made in this column that the organizing of civilian rifle clubs in the cities and towns of Alberta would be one way in which sportsmen could make a worthwhile contribution to the national war effort.

At that time it was urged that such organizations should be set up to assist in training Canadians to shoot with the larger calibre rifles as an asset to those who might later on join the active army—and just in case any threat should pop up inside of our own borders.

Today the need for such rifle clubs has become far more imperative than I ever thought it would. It is almost impossible to fully explain the situation without being charged with being an alarmist. However, the only serious cause for alarm at the present lack of such organizations. If every town had one of these clubs organized on a semi-military basis with a few war veterans in charge of training and discipline, there would be no need for any further worry about bothersome Fifth Columnists.

When I urge the immediate formation of these groups of expert riflemen, I am deadly serious and basing my seriousness on information that has piled up from many reliable sources until it is impossible to consider it any longer as exaggerations. The pell-mell rush of developments in Europe in recent weeks has brought developments that people never dreamed of . . . developments that reach right into your home and mine.

The one danger that threatens us here in Canada is lack of preparedness for any possible emergency that may arise. There is no emergency that can be foreseen at present that we can't whip—if we have sufficient time to get organized for it. This time lag is far more dangerous to us than goose-stepping hordes. It's our worst enemy and yet the easiest to kill if we stop fiddling around and get going.

Let's Help Ourselves

YOU may wonder why the outburst of heat on this subject on a sport page when home defence is essentially a matter for the federal government. The answer is that events are happening so fast right now that we have to assume our old western individualism and self-reliance—and a vital part of that needed help can best be supplied by sportsmen the men who have long made guns their hobby.

The situation is now such that there is little hope of obtaining arms and ammunition for civilian rifle clubs from the government. That means that sporting rifles will have to be used. Fortunately there are plenty of these around and ammunition is still available.

Every town should have an active rifle club. Half a dozen hand-picked Brown subjects of unquestionable loyalty are enough to start it. Town councils municipalities and other public bodies should be willing to assist in building a shooting range for regular practices. One of four or five hundred yards is long enough if a longer layout is not convenient.

Members of the club should keep their gun and a good supply of ammunition in a safe place in their homes. Officials of the club should be able to contact all members by telephone day or night. Members should also have their cars ready to rush to any danger spot at a minute's notice. The club program should include enough military drill and organization to permit it to be efficiently controlled and directed. A bit of sham skirmishing from time to time would be excellent.

Once the nucleus is solidly organized, it will be be easy to enlarge the group to a hard-hitting, lighting fast unit of expert riflemen that would absolutely guarantee the security of their district. The clubs could later on be grouped into a under a commandant for co-ordinated action on a larger scale if needed.

In launching these suggestions I am not forgetting that the dominion government will shortly be bringing in a military training program for home defence. However the need is great until such program gets into effective stride and even after there will be need for organized units that can strike with the speed, accuracy and deadliness of a blacksnake whip—an old western tool that might well be made the emblem of such rifle clubs.

It's Stampede Time In Ponoka

In the above shot the photographer rounded up and hog-tied a bunch of the citizens who are putting over Ponoka's annual stampede this year in a bigger, breezier and fancier style than ever. Every male citizen of this enterprising town has been wearing old-fashioned western whiskers, beards and mustaches along with sombreros for the past couple of months. These facial adornments will be retained until after the rodeo—July 1 and 2. In addition to stampede features on July 1, Ponoka will also offer a Central Alberta Baseball League game between the Stampeders and and Edmonton Dodgers. Frank Buck Finds Most Dangerous Of All Animals—On The Race Track

By HENRY McLEMORE
British United Press, Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

NEW YORK, June 26.—We took Frank Buck to aqueduct and were scarcely able to bring him back alive. The man who has faced jungle dangers in Belgian Congo, Sumatra, Borneo, and the Malay Peninsula trembled like a child when confronted with the hazards and pitfalls of aqueduct.

It was his first visit to a race track and he ventured there with complete confidence. Had he only looked the black panther in the eye from 10 paces? Had he not stood pat in the compound while a Python wrapped it out with a leopard? Had he not sparred, almost hand to hand, with the vicious rhino.

He scorned our warnings of the perils that awaited him.

He was laughing as he tossed off a Singapore gin sling at the club-house bar and played Fishwife across the board in the first race. He didn't even watch the race that brought him in $10.50 for his $6 investment.

CRAVES ACTION

So he took Ditty Step in the next one, a 22 to 1 shot.

Stanley found Livingstone, but he never could have found Ditty Step at the finish of the race. Somewhere in the brush of the backstretch he stopped as if pierced by a poisoned dart, and Buck gave the low wall of the Congo-Pongo when that animal is caught in a trap.

The aqueduct Safari from here on out became a nightmare and the dauntless Buck must have wished he were comfortably beating his way between upper Zambesi and Lower Zambesi.

TAKES A BEATING

Fighting Fox gave him a terrific beating in the fifth race. One of the favorites, Fighting Fox wound up ninth and Buck, armed only with a pocketbook, was helpless to protect himself.

Back in New York, in his trophy room and surrounded by the heads of wild animals he had shot, Buck pointed to a vacant place on the wall.

"See that spot?" he asked, pointing to a space between the heads of a jaguar and a panther. Well, I was saving that for the time I finally bagged a king cobra, preferably one suffering from a toothache. You see, I wanted what I believed to be the meanest thing alive to hang up there. Now I've changed my mind about the cobra. What I really want to hang there is the head of the most dangerous of all animals—a race horse who doesn't get a call."

Bout Is a Draw; Fans Fight Too

LOS ANGELES, June 26—Sammy Angott of Louisville, the National Boxing Association lightweight champion, and Harry Arizmendi of Los Angeles, fought a savage 10-round draw last night before a wildly-cheering crowd of 8,000 fans that saw fights break out in the audience at the decision.

It was a non-title fight. Angott weighed 139, Arizmendi 137½.

Sports . . . . Roundup

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

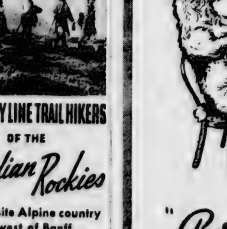

NEW YORK, June 26.—Believe-it-or-not: Up to today St. Louis Browns had won more games than the Yanks—and with Yankee castoffs, at that . . . A Newark sportsman who lost 40 grand on Max Baer when he fought Braddock, has offered Tony Galento $1,000 for every tooth he knocks out of Baer's head Tuesday night.

They say poor Mr. Ford C. Frick fell out of his easy chair Monday night when one of the radio fellows calmly announced: . . . All the oldtey games in the Major Leagues, also the National were rained out."

El Galento got sore at Jimmy Frain, his trainer, and threw a punch. It missed Frain, but caught a character named Bitchie (The camp chauffeur) flush on the kisser and knocked him stiffer than an Andalusian goat. . . . We could scarcely believe our eyes when one of the N.Y. papers today called Joe Dimaggio "Just another centre fielder."

Mustangs Climb Into Tie For League Lead

JIMMY RATTLESNAKE won his own ball game here last night and hoisted the Wetaskiwin Mustangs into a tie with Ponoka for the leadership of the Central Alberta Baseball League when he held the Arrows to six widely scattered hits and crashed out the seventh inning single to left field that gave his team a 2-0 win.

The tall, willowy Cree Indian was in top form. The sixth was the only inning in which he allowed more than one single and then he was able to shut off the rally by striking out the next man up and making the following one pop up a high fly for the third out.

For those who like tight, fast ball-and a duel between pitchers, last night's game was made to order. Foley hurtled the full nine innings for the Arrows and actually turned in a slightly better pitching performance than Rattlesnake.

Both pitchers struck out six men. Foley gave one base on balls while Rattlesnake walked two men. Foley gave only five hits against Rattlesnake's six.

Foley was beaten however by his team mates booting two fielding chances in the same inning that the Mustangs touched him for a pair of singles. He also contributed a wild pitch himself that helped Wetaskiwin score.

Mustangs counted both runs in the seventh. With one out, Malmo got a scratch infield hit. He went to second on Foley's wild pitch. Watkins reached first safely when Harney made a bum throw after picking up a ball that was hit into the dirt just in front of the plate. Malmo reached third on this bad throw. Rattlesnake singled to Lupul in left field. Malmo scored. Lupul made the mistake of throwing to second and Watkins galloped in from third with the second run.

Dodgers To Meet East End Cubs In Juvenile Ball

The East End Cubs will meet the South Side Dodgers at Renfrew Park, tonight at 6:30 o'clock, in the opening game of the Edmonton Juvenile Baseball League and as the South Siders are practically the same team as won the Midget title last year considerable interest has been aroused as to how the boys will handle themselves in Juvenile circles.

There is a third team in the same league, the Unions and they have been practising diligently for their first game, the date of which is to be announced later.

In tonight's contest, Danylowich will be the starting pitcher for the Cubs, with Mircault on the receiving end, while the battery for the Dodgers will be Wilf. Rayner and Doug. Stenenson.

Hamlin Returns Fine Is Revoked

BROOKLYN, N.Y. June 26—Pitcher Luke Hamlin donned a Brooklyn Dodger uniform last night exactly one week after he quit the club in a huff because President Larry MacPhail rebuked him for remaining in some ball or a game with St. Louis Cardinals. No announcement was made by club officials, who previously had refused to discuss Hamlin's absence.

It was revealed MacPhail had told Hamlin during their row last week that he was fining the pitcher $500 for not giving his best effort. Today MacPhail revoked the fine and Hamlin started tonight's game against Chicago Cubs.

The Knights of the Grip are back on the fairways again. On Sunday four of these stalwarts played off for the Amy Cup, a challenge trophy open to all Associated Canadian Travelers of the Edmonton district.

Cliff McLeod and Gordon Steeves the present holders of the trophy successfully defended against the challenge of Joe Taylor and Norman Adams. In a match that was all square as far along as the sixteenth, the defenders clicked for a nice win on the seventeenth and by halving the eighteenth retained possession of the cup by a one up margin.

Homers By Hal Trosky Drop Yankees Below Sox

CLEVELAND, June 26.—With Hal Trosky hitting his 16th and 17th home runs of the season, the pace-making Cleveland Indians pounced on New York Yankees again Tuesday for a 5-3 victory before rain halted the game at the end of the fifth inning.

It was the fourth consecutive defeat for the Yanks and their ninth in 10 games. The triumph raised the Tribe to 2½ games over the Detroit Tigers.

Treachery Plays Part In Defeat Lafleche States

OTTAWA, June 26—Major-General L. R. LaFleche, deputy minister of national defence and recently chief military observer of the Canadian government with the French army, has arrived safely in England, his wife was informed in a cable received from him last night. "Was last to leave French high command in field," his cable said. "Treachery and refugees some reasons of defeat. Many adventures. Well."

Great Footballer Dies In Accident

LONDON, June 26—Tom Cooper, former England soccer captain, was killed Tuesday when his motorcycle collided with a bus near Aldersburgh, Suffolk.

Cooper played for England against Scotland, Ireland and Wales between 1928 and 1935. He has been on the books of Sheffield Wednesday, Derby County and Liverpool major league teams.

Hamilton Wins Both Ends Of Daily Double

WINNIPEG, June 26.—Chief Richie, game Alberta-bred horse, romped home in 1:23 3-5 in the Grain Exchange Handicap at Polo Park yesterday, winning the six and one-half furlong event by two lengths over My Feng and Sky Empress.

Jockey Gayle Smith piloted the Chief into the lead soon after the gate opened, and kept the advantage around the heavy, drying track, although closely pressed all the way.

The daily double paid $194.70, with Jockey Les Hamilton riding both Society Editor and Leyburn to victory in the double events. Napaloa Flag and Friendly Foe provided a $15.20 quinella.

The new Grumman fighting plane "Skyrocket" is reported to have passed 450 miles an hour in tests. Specifications are secret. The plane has two motors and twin rudders.

M.P. Lays Charge Of "Bureaucracy" In Ottawa House

OTTAWA, June 26.—Declaring that parliamentary government was being replaced by "government of bureaucracy," Walter Tucker (Lib., Rosthern) protested in the House of Commons last night against proposed closing of the experimental farm at Rosthern.

Hon. J. G. Gardiner, agriculture minister, said Rosthern was only one of six farms and 19 demonstration stations being closed. He had been told that $2,000,000 must be cut off the agriculture estimates and this was one of the methods. The total saving in closing farms and stations would be $185,000. The Rosthern station had cost $27,000 last year.

Nazi Air Force Builder Killed

BERLIN, June 26.—Fritz Loeb, 48, who was instrumental in building up Germany's air force and developing the Nazi four-year plan, died "in the war," the German news agency said yesterday. Other sources indicated he was killed in an airplane crash. Loeb was called in April, 1936, to become chief of raw materials and foreign exchange for the execution of the four-year plan.

Civics To Meet Scona Tonight In Soccer Series

Tonight at Clarke Stadium the Civics and Scona United will meet for the second time within a week to settle the question of the local playoff in the dominion soccer series and alfo to determine who is to meet the Callies in Calgary next Saturday for provincial honors.

Scona put up a great defensive game last Saturday, when the score ended in a 1-1 draw and gave the Civics many anxious moments around the latters' goal as well and they will be out there tonight trying just as hard. On the other hand the Civics have shown to better advantage than they did in the first game, particularly on their short passing plays on the line and so the fans can be assured of a real game.

"Ever So Many Replies"

That's the headline for today's result story and that's just what happened to this advertiser the other day. A Small Ad offering a two-room suite made its appearance in Bulletin Want Ads and brought such pleasing results that the advertiser didn't hesitate to tell our Want Ad girls about it. You know, the ad cost only a fifty-cent piece, saved time and money, which goes to show that it pays to use Bulletin Want Ads whatever your advertising needs may be.

THIRD READING IS GIVEN RELIEF BILL IN HOUSE TUESDAY

OTTAWA, June 26.—The House of Commons last night gave third reading to the government's annual relief bill after hearing a protest from the Conservative leader, Hon. R. B. Hanson, that three potential munitions plants in Pictou county, N.S., have been tied up for weeks by a wage dispute.

Mr. Hanson urged Labor Minister Norman McLarty to see that the conciliation board created a month ago to deal with the whole question, should proceed at once.

The bill empowers the government to make agreements with and grants in aid to the provinces for unemployment relief and to aid agricultural distress.

Blockade Extended

British United Press Exclusive Cable To The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, June 26.—The British blockade now has been extended to France and ships to and from French ports occupied by the axis powers are liable to normal contraband control, the ministry of economic warfare announced today.

Ski Meet Cancelled

JASPER, June 26.—Cancellation due to war conditions of Canada's first summer ski meet was announced today by executives of Jasper Park Ski Club. The competition, scheduled for July 1, was to have been staged in the snowbanks of Mount Athabasca in Colombia icefield, Jasper National Park.

12 MORE MEN FROM C.A.S.F. ARE MISSING

Fifth Casualty List Issued By National Defence Department

OTTAWA, June 26—The national defence department in its fifth casualty list for the Canadian Active Service Force overseas announced today that 12 more men have been reported missing.

This brings the total to 18 of C. A. S. F. men missing, presumably during the operations in France of some units earlier this month.

Previous casualty lists showed that 32 more have died since the 1st division arrived in England last December. These deaths all occurred during training with the exception of two fatal accidents in France, it is understood.

MISSING LIST

Royal Canadian Artillery:

Gnr. Mervyn Joseph Daggit, next-of-kin, Mrs. Mary Daggit (mother) Winnipeg, missing June 15; Stanley Milton Lewis, next-of-kin Mrs. Evelyn Florence Lewis (wife) Kingston, Ont., no date specified when missing.

Royal Canadian engineers:

Sapper Clement Julien, next-of-kin Miss Annette Julien (sister), St. Hilaire, Que., missing June 16; Sapper Fraser Peter Hutchinson, next-of-kin, Mrs. Gertrude Hutchinson (wife), Port Wallis, N.S., no date specified when missing.

Infantry:

Pte. Maurice Hector Corbould, next-of-kin, Mary Helen Corbould (sister), Buenos Aires, Argentina, missing June 14; Pte. George Thompson, next-of-kin, Mrs. Edith Doggett (sister), Toronto, missing June 14.

SERVICE CORPS

Royal Canadian Army Service Corps:

Pte. William McBurnie, next-of-kin, Mrs. Catharine McBurnie (wife) Toronto, Ont., no date specified when missing; Pte. Edmund Albert Hodgkin, next-of-kin, Mrs. Mary Youngs (mother), Stratford, Ont., no date specified when missing.

Royal Canadian Army Service Corps (attached Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps):

CURLING RINK MAY BE NEEDED FOR HOME GUARD

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

PEACE RIVER, June 26.—Work on the construction of the new curling rink commenced early this week and workmen are engaged in preparing the ground for the laying of the foundation. There is a possibility that the curlers hope that the building may be completed as quickly as possible with a view of using it for the purposes of the home guard or veterans' unit in the event that it would be required by the government. In this case the curling activities for the duration of the war would be the Curling club's contribution to national defence. The building and ground area of 75x172 feet and the front portion will be heated by furnace, the basement for which is now being excavated.

The recruiting party arrived in Peace River early this morning and found about 20 men waiting at the Canadian Legion headquarters, but a steady stream of volunteers continued to arrive all morning and it is believed that the quota of 100 men will be reached before before the day ends. There seems to be unbounded enthusiasm among those waiting to sign up. A number of soldiers home on leave add to the military aspect of the situation as well as an appearance of great activity as the streets are also unusually crowded with cars for an ordinary week day.

EXECUTIVE OF UNION MEETS ON WEDNESDAY

Municipal Delegates Hold 36th Annual Convention In City

On Wednesday members of the executive and legislative committee will go into session at 3:30 p.m. to consolidate resolutions and deal with other convention matters.

Registration of delegates will start at the hotel on Thursday at 9:30 a.m. and the convention will get underway at 10 o'clock when His Honor Lieut.-Gov. J. C. Bowen welcomes the delegates on behalf of the province and Mayor John W. Fry on behalf of the city of Edmonton.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Following these formalities Neil Primrose, Vegreville, will present the presidential address, and J. F. Fraser, Wetaskiwin, will submit the secretary-treasurer's report.

Report of the legislative committee will be presented at the morning session Thursday. This will be followed by an address by Hon. Lucien Maynard K. C. minister of municipal affairs.

At noon Thursday the delegates will be guests of the City of Edmonton at a luncheon. Mayor John W. Fry will preside.

Thursday afternoon J. E. Brownlee K.C., Edmonton, will present a report on the Rowell-Sirois Commission as it affects municipalities. The rest of Thursday's session will be devoted to the consideration of resolutions, and addresses by J. W. Judge, director of assessments, department of municipal affairs; and Dr. A. C. McGugan, assistant deputy minister of health, who will speak on health units.

ADDRESSES

At Friday's sessions D. M. Duggan, M.L.A., will give an address on municipal financing and refunding of debt; Dr. A. E. Ames, F.R.C.S., Lamont, will speak on medicine and health insurance, and F. W. Nicols, Ottawa, director of housing, department of finance, will discuss the national housing act and home improvement plan.

T. E. Garside, K.C., Edmonton's city solicitor, will speak on municipal liability for accidents on road conditions, and A. A. Campbell, city comptroller, Edmonton, will deal with pensions for municipal employees.

Aircraftsman Has Exciting Time As Billet Is Bombed

Exciting experiences during the recent terrific fighting in France and Flanders is described in a letter home by Leading Aircraftsman Archibald Martin, 22, with the R.A.F. all-Canadian squadron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Martin, 9819 102 street.

Nazi bombers destroyed a house in which he was billeted and blew up and machine-gunned planes by day during the recent German drive through Belgium and northern France.

The letter was written shortly after Martin reached Dover from Boulogne.

CROP CONDITIONS ARE PROMISING, MULLEN STATES

Crop conditions throughout Alberta are generally promising, according to Hon. D. B. Mullen, minister of agriculture, in releasing his fourth fortnightly crop report of the current season Wednesday.

"Good general rains would be beneficial throughout most of the province but to date crops have not suffered from lack of moisture," states Mr. Mullen. "Showers have been general, varying from a precipitation to 1.5 inches in the Vegreville district. Weather north and east of this area has been cloudy and cool, retarding rapid growth.

The reports states grain crops have developed satisfactorily, early sown crops being in the shot-blade stage. Summerfallow is well advanced in the province.

Slight damage to crops has been done by grasshoppers in the southeast section, while damage by wire worms is reported in sections of the Peace River area.

Condition of live stock, dairying and poultry is satisfactory.

Wheat stands are reported from 10 to 15 inches high.

Winnipeg Wheat Futures Trading Fails To Open

WINNIPEG, June 26 — Wheat futures prices, resting on their government pegged levels, failed to open in early trading on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today.

The commodity futures' junior available was a decline in United States wheat pits which Winnipeg could not follow due to the fixed minimum level set.

The July future has been at its peg of 71⅛ cents since last Thursday. The October position has been sitting on its minimum of 73⅝ since Saturday and the December dropped to 74⅞, its bottom level, in yesterday's session.

DANIEL BRENT IS COMMITTED FOR CONTEMPT

Accused Burglar Jailed for Refusing Reply to Crown Counsel

Following persistent refusals to reply to questions of Crown Counsel J. W. McClung, K.C., Daniel Brent, appearing as a witness against Kenneth Abbott, charged with burglarizing the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association last April, was committed to jail for eight days on a contempt charge Tuesday afternoon.

Brent steadfastly refused to state where he obtained a diamond ring he had given to his sister-in-law, Mrs. William Brent. The court alleges this ring was stolen from the premises of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association. A glass jar containing more than $7,000 worth of jewelry was found by detectives buried in the ground near the home of William Brent, brother of Daniel.

DENIES EVIDENCE

On the witness stand Tuesday afternoon, Daniel Brent swore that his brother had been mistaken when he previously testified he had seen Daniel with the jewelry obtaining the jewels in his hand, sitting on a fence near where William was working in the garden.

Daniel Brent also swore that he had never had in his possession two pouches which contained the jewels inside a glass jar, according to evidence given by detectives.

Magistrate Miller granted an application by Crown Counsel to have Brent declared a "hostile" witness and subject to cross-examination.

Hearing of the charges against Abbott was adjourned eight days as the result of the committal for contempt.

Brent gave as his reason for not answering the question that he did not wish to divulge his defence as a supreme court judge now charges of retaining possession of stolen jewelry.

REMANDED FOR TRIAL

Brent was remanded for supreme court trial on charges of obtaining stolen jewelry in his possession. Other charges of breaking and entering separately and jointly with Abbott, including the robbery of Henry Birks and Sons, will be dealt with at the end of the eight-day adjournment. On a charge of breaking and entering the premises of MacDonald's Consolidated the crown asked permission to withdraw proceedings. A. W. Miller is acting for both Brent and Abbott.

BOARD IS ASKED NAME BUILDING McK E E SCHOOL

Suggestion that the long and faithful service of G. A. McKee, O.B.E., who is retiring as superintendent of schools, be permanently commemorated by naming the new West End school "The George Albert McKee School" has been made to members of the Edmonton Public school board by Mrs. Mary H. Hilton.

The board referred the suggestion to the management committee of the board for consideration at the next meeting. Name of the new school, also under construction in the West End, is "Westglen."

TRAVELLER DIES WHILE MOTORING NEAR RIBSTONE

Resident of Edmonton for the past eight years and well known in business circles, H. Solowey, aged 48, of 320 Condell Block, commercial traveller, died suddenly while travelling on the highway near Ribstone, Alta., Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Solowey was born in northern Russia and lived for a time in London before coming to Canada. From 1904 to 1924 he lived in Winnipeg, where he was married in 1914. He operated a retail business in Saskatoon until he came here in 1932 and since that time he has been travelling throughout the province. He was a member of the Northwest Commercial Travellers' Association.

He leaves his wife, two daughters, Lucy and Mariam, one son, Irving, and a grandchild, Sharon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Solowey.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of Connelly and McKinley and the services are expected to be held Thursday.

Telegrams For Navy Sent Only In Urgent Case

OTTAWA, June 26. — The navy announced today that telegrams sent to officers and ratings here for men on service with the Royal Canadian Navy cannot be forwarded except in cases of emergency.

In such cases, steps will be taken to communicate essential information, provided it does not compromise the operation on which the rating's ship may be employed and only when the bona fides of the sender are established beyond doubt. Other telegrams will be forwarded by mail.

Naval officers here have been flooded with telegrams since it has been disclosed that some units of the Royal Canadian Navy are operating in European waters.

Buys Plane

GRANT McCONACHIE, president of Yukon Southern Air Transport, Limited, who announced Wednesday that his company had purchased a speedy Beechcraft plane for use on northern feederline services. The purchase of this plane, which cruises at better than four, permits the release of three Waco planes to the government for training purposes.

U.S. Aviation Is Seeking New Link With Lethbridge

United States aviation companies are expected to continue their effort to secure permission for operation of an air route connection between Great Falls, Mont., and Lethbridge, according to S. E. Gates of Washington, D.C., chief of the international division of the U.S. civil aeronautics authority, who arrived here Tuesday. Last March C.A.A. examiners advised against granting permission for the route to either of two U.S. companies seeking to establish such an airline. Mr. Gates stated that one of the companies, Western Air Express, may file an appeal against the recommendation of the examiners.

Aviation interests in Edmonton are anxious to see such a route established as it would give the city direct southward air service across the international boundary.

Mr. Gates, who is a guest at the Macdonald hotel, expressed a high regard for the Trans-Canada Airlines system, over which he flew from Seattle to Edmonton.

Druggists Give Aid

Committee in charge of the recent convention held here of the Alberta Pharmaceutical Association has handed $50 to the Red Cross Society, $25 for the blanket fund and $25 for the ambulance fund, an official of the Edmonton Retail Druggists' Association reported today.

PROGRESS MADE ON FORMATION VETS RESERVE

The formation of The Veterans Volunteer Reserve is proceeding satisfactorily, according to a statement issued by Major R. C. Arthurs, M.C., executive officer of the board. Veterans are showing great enthusiasm and are registering for enrolment in large numbers throughout the province.

Contact has been established with approximately 130 centres and registration forms together with instructions for recruiting have been distributed to all points. Returns are now being received and the board is proceeding with organization plans for larger formations.

Standing orders for the reserve have been passed by the executive council of the provincial government and are being distributed to all recruiting centres immediately.

The board, under the chairmanship of George B. Henwood, K.C., deputy attorney general, is fully satisfied with results to date but nevertheless urge all recruiting centres to contact veterans with a view to obtaining as rapid an enrolment as possible. Speed is essential in order that the reserve may be established.

It is expected there will be about 3,000 former service men in the province available to join this reserve service in which will be voluntary and with no commitments to go overseas. The reserve will co-operate with the R.C.M.P. in preventing any possible "fifth column" activities.

The reserve will not be unit-formed, but will wear arm-bands and consideration is being given to having a badge.

Arms will be supplied only when it is deemed necessary.

Missing English Airman Is Given Bravery Award

LONDON, June 26 — A young English airman who single-handed attacked between 50 and 60 German fighters, downing one of them, was awarded the distinguished service order last night. He is Flt.-Lt. Ian Soden, 23, recently posted as missing. In two days he personally shot down five enemy aircraft, and possibly two others.

Officer Visits

Completing an inspection tour of western detachments, Lt. Col. R. Cadiz, Winnipeg, assistant commissioner, R.C.M.P., arrived in Edmonton Wednesday from Peace River. He will proceed to Winnipeg Wednesday evening. Assistant Commissioner Cadiz was stationed at Edmonton from 1932 to 1935 as second in command to Lt. Col. H. M. Newson, who retired several years ago.

Pioneer Of West, George Bremner, Passes In City

Resident of Edmonton for the past 33 years, and one of the early pioneers of the west, George Bremner died at his home at 11737 Jasper Avenue, Tuesday, after a brief illness.

Born in Ontario, he came west over 50 years ago and was in the lumber business at Crow's Nest Pass before coming to Edmonton 33 years ago. He was on the court-house staff of the provincial government for 23 years, retiring a few years ago. He was on the court-house staff of the provincial government until his retirement ten years ago.

He is survived by two sons, John W. of Vancouver, and Charles M. of Edmonton. Funeral services will be held Thursday at Foster and McGarvey's funeral chapel at 2 p.m. with Rev. J. Gordon Brown officiating. Interment will be made in the Lethbridge cemetery.

WOMAN CHARGED SEDITION COUNT IN COURT HERE

First woman to be charged here for an offence under the Defence of Canada Regulations, Mrs. Emil Eichler, will face two counts in city police court Wednesday afternoon.

She is charged with making statements likely to cause disaffection among His Majesty's forces and of making statements likely to prejudice the recruiting of His Majesty's forces.

Adam Mertz, charged with a similar offence, received an adjournment until Friday when he appeared before Magistrate Miller Wednesday morning.

Carl Chrisman, who had previously been arraigned under the section dealing with causing disaffection, was arraigned again on an additional charge under the section of the regulations dealing with the prejudicing of recruiting. He also received a remand until next Tuesday. Bail was granted in the sum of $1,000.

Still another person, William Brunn, was arrested Wednesday and charged with making subversive statements. He will appear in court Thursday.

Text Book Report

Report of the special committee appointed by Premier Aberhart to investigate the text of the High school auxiliary book, The World of Today, has been handed to the premier and is being learned Wednesday. The committee was appointed last fall after a Calgary school board candidate in the provincial election had contended the book contained "pernicious Nazi propaganda," in that it said Germany in 1918 had had to sign a "shameful peace." The committee was to recommend changes and revisions in the text. The report has been filed.

SALVATION ARMY LOSES $200,000 IN BATTLE ZONE

Reports reaching local headquarters of the Salvation Army indicate that the sudden change in the military situation in France and Flanders has laid a heavy extra burden upon the workers overseas with the soldiers.

Seventeen canteen centres were bombed, destroyed and abandoned. Mrs. Brigadier Herbert Climpson, wife of the deputy-director of Salvation Army war work in France, was killed by a bomb splinter and buried in the soldiers' cemetery outside Dieppe. Two hours later the town was heavily bombed. Army officers accompanied refugees fleeing to the coast. Salvation Army equipment valued at $200,000 was lost.

At the request of the British military authorities, the Salvation Army rushed six mobile canteens to England's south coast, and ministered to thousands of British, French and Belgian soldiers brought over from Dunkerque. Refreshments were distributed to the exhausted men. Large groups slept on their 'ee', while waiting supplies. Salvation Army workers toiled day and night.

Thousands of refugees from northern France—some of whom, footsore and bleeding, had walked 120 miles—were assisted by the Salvation Army of Paris.

Twenty Salvation Army centres with 120 officers, remain in the south of France with the troops still there. In Great Britain 320 Red Shield Clubs and 50 mobile canteens are now operating, and a Salvation Army hotel has been recently opened in west central London.

Spain May Try Take Gibraltar By Long Siege

MADRID, June 26.—The newspaper Ajazar hinted yesterday at a possible Spanish attempt to seize Gibraltar, claiming the famous British maritime gate to the Mediterranean is vulnerable and that Spain possesses nearly all the keys to it.

"In a prolonged siege," it inquired, "how could such a fortress be supplied when even fresh water is obtained from Spain and normally it has to receive food from Spain or Africa?"

"The rock has lost almost all its strategic value," the paper contended. "From the British election of 1918 the enemy mountains, Gibraltar could be shelled mercilessly and effectively.
